WANT NEW COMMISSION AND INTRA-STATE RATES

If These Are Granted Rate Association Willing to Accept Railroads' Proposal.

AMENDMENT HEARING MONDAY

Legislature Gets Down to Task of Settling Rates and Amendments President Tate's Attitude—the Day's Session.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 26.—President Fred N. Tate, of the State Just Freight Rate Association, said tonight that he is leaving for his home at High Point until Monday, confident the Legislature will create the separate freight rate and public service commission demanded by the association and provide for sweeping reductions in intra-State freight rates, and that he is perfectly willing for the pending proposal of the railroad companies as to reductions of inter-State rates to be adopted, if the separate commission is created and provision made for lower intra-State rates.

The Senate and House Committee on Constitutional Amendments agreed this afternoon to hold a joint meeting Monday afternoon at which there will be a hearing as to the proposed amendment as to reading the Bible in the schools.

All But Bible Amendment.

The House committee agreed this afternoon to report favorably all the amendment proposals recommended by the legislative commission except that as to Bible reading in schools.

The Senate Committee on Constitutional Amendments held a lengthy session with only nine of the 16 members present and indulged in spirited discussions of a number of the sections. The committee passed over the initiative and referendum section for future discussion, amended proposal four as to pay of legislators by making the pay $6 and $8 instead of $8 and $10 per day, and approved proposal five designed to relieve the General Assembly of local, private and special legislation. Section Six fixing the terms of office of the Governor and State officers to begin the second Wednesday after the first Monday in January, was adopted. There were indications of lively differences as to section eight as to emergency judges and the section as to revenue and taxation.

Status of Commission Fixed.

The Senate spent much time today discussing the status of the legislative Commission on Constitutional Amendments and the standing of the report of the commission in the Senate, the conclusion being reached that the commission's work is finished, and that the regular Committee on Constitutional Amendments has now the right to consider the various proposals to amend the Constitution reported by the commission and any others that might be offered, all to take their regular course as new bills.

Senators, Pharr, Barnes, Mason Ivie and Thorne participated in the discussion. Senator Thorne said it had been charged that the commission had met all over the State from Morehead to Asheville to get out of the reach of the people, but he did not believe this. Senator Ivie took him to task for repeating such a charge when he knew it was false.

Among new bills introduced was one by Thorne to authorize the Department of Agriculture to invest $200,000 of its revenue in a fireproof building.

Reduce Corporation Tax.

A bill by Senator Cook amends the revenue act as to tax on corporations to make the corporation franchise tax one twenty-fifth of one per cent. of capital instead of one-fifteenth of one per cent.

There is announced a public meeting of the joint Committee on Constitutional Amendments for next Monday at 2 P. M., when citiens of the State will be heard on the amendment as to reading the Bible in the public schools.

Representative E. J. Justice, of Greensboro, introduced in the House today two resolutions asking Congress to require the immediate uniform classification of freights and urging the National law-makers to investigate through its committee why the inter-State commerce law has been so unsatisfactorily administered and requesting the repeal of the fourth section of that act so that the Inter-State Commerce Commission might not have power to abrogate the law with regard to the long and short haul clause.

Porter, of Forsyth, also introduced a resolution that was passed authorizing Mr. Justice, as chairman of the Freight Rate Commission, to confer with a representative of the railroads in an effort to clear up all ambiguities in their proposition for a settlement of freight rates and report back Monday and especially specify when the reduced rates will be effective if the proposal is passed as every one concedes it will be.

Amendments to Committee.

Williams, of Buncombe, introduced the constitutional amendments in the nature of a bill, which were referred to the Committee on Constitutional Amendments, after vigorous speechmaking instead of being put on the calendar; and a large number of bills were introduced.

GRACE PROTESTS WHALEY.

First South Carolina District Congressman With Contest on Hands.

Washington, Sept. 26.—Mayor Grace, of Charleston, S. C., who filed charges with Speaker Clark, involving the right of Representative Richard S. Whaley, of the First South Carolina district, to hold his seat, appeared today before the House Elections Committee. Mayor Grace was told that his sworn petition, filed with the Speaker, was not specific enough to satisfy the committee. He will appear tomorrow to elaborate his charges.

Attorney General to Remove District Attorneys and Marshals—Hammer to Land in West, Winston in East.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., Sept. 26.—The announcement at the Department of Justice today that Attorney General McReynolds is contemplating removing many of the Republican district attorneys and marshals within the next 60 days, regardless of their commissions, has caused a stir in official circles here.

Senator Overman is pretty certain that Attorney Holton and Marshal Logan will be removed not later than December 1st. It is expected that W. C. Hammer, of Ashboro, will be named as district attorney and that State Chairman Webb, of Asheville, will be offered the marshalship.

Winston Will Get Plum.

It has been understood for some time that Francis D. Winston will be recommended for district attorney for the eastern half of the State and that W. T. Dortch, of Goldsboro, will be given the marshalship for the same section.

Representative Godwin has been named a member of the House committee to attend the funeral of Representative Roddenberry of Georgia. The Congressional committee left Washington tonight for Georgia.

H. C. McQueen and M. J. Corbett, of Wilmington, are here.

Watts Pellagra Hospital.

That Geo. W. Watts, of Durham, intends to build a large, up-to-date hospital and allow it to be used for the treatment of pellagra and malaria and for scientific research work, to study the causes of diseases common to North Carolina, is the information contained in a statement issued by Representative Faison, of the Third North Carolina district, today.

Dr. Rupert Blue, Surgeon General of the United States Public Health Service, has arranged for Surgeon L. L. Lumsden to go to Durham October 2nd to investigate pellagra in the central part of the State, and while in Durham, Dr. Lumsden will confer with Mr. Watts with reference to the new hospital.

Dr. Carter Coming Here.

Congressman Faison has been told by Surgeon General Blue that in addition to the pellagra expert, Dr. Henry G. Carter, the United States malarial expert, will visit Kinston, Morehead City, Jacksonville, Wilmington, and Clinton between October 1st and 15th to study malarial conditions, and mosquito prevention. It is hoped that all physicians interested in pellagra and malarial diseases will visit the government's surgeons while they are in the State. P. R. A.

GOV. HOOPER DEFIANT.

Will Call Another Extra Session If Bills Are Not Passed.

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 26.—Indications here tonight were that efforts of "Regular" Democrats to prevent the so-called law enforcement bills, designed to make more effective the present prohibition laws of Tennessee, from coming to a vote at the special session of the Legislature probably would be successful. The special session will end tomorrow and opponents of the bills tonight planned to continue their filibuster until the Legislature adjourned.

Today two special messages sent to the House of Representatives by Governor Hooper were utilized to prolong the filibuster. The messages were transmitted to the House just after an appeal had been taken to the decision of the speaker denying a motion for immediate consideration of the "law enforcement" measure. Floor Leader Drane for the "Regulars," immediately moved suspension of the rules for consideration of the "anti-pass bill" which one of the Governor's messages advocated. General discussion of the motion occupied the rest of the day's session.

Rigid enforcement of the order excluding from the House all persons not members of that body today insured quiet at the capitol. Persons believed to be in the confidence of Governor Hooper tonight said that if the Legislature adjourned without voting on the "law enforcement" bills, another special session would be called.

OUTLINES

Democratic conferees yesterday agreed on all features of the new tariff bill, with the exception of the cotton futures tax upon which they agreed to disagree; the bill will be submitted to the Republican conference Monday morning, and introduced in the House Monday afternoon.

The Senate Currency Committee hearings have developed a wide range of disagreement, and with enough witnesses desiring to be heard to consume several weeks, there is no telling when the end will be reached, and the snow may yet fly before Congress finishes its work.

Governor Sulzer's attorneys were apparently dumbfounded yesterday at the New York impeachment trial when witnesses testified that the Governor tried to persuade contributors to his campaign fund not to testify against him, even to the point of violating their oaths.

Cotton reached new high levels yesterday on discouraging crop reports and active buying of spinners, together with the influence of futures tax legislation in Washington.

New York markets: Money on call, steady, at 2 3-4 to 3 per cent.; ruling rate, 2 3-4; closing, 2 7-8 to 3 per cent.; time loans, weaker. Spot cotton, steady; middling uplands, 14.10; do. gulf, 14.35. Rosin and turpentine, easy. Flour, barely steady; wheat steady; No. 2, red, 94 1-2; corn, steady, export, 79 3-4, nominal.

New York's Impeached Executive and Probable Successor, Lieut. Gov. Glynn.

CONTRIBUTORS ASKED TO SHIELD GOV. SULZER

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 26.—Governor William Sulzer tried to persuade contributors to his campaign fund not to testify against him, according to evidence adduced at his impeachment trial today.

He asked Duncan W. Peck, State superintendent of public works, who gave $500 to the fund, to violate his oath on the witness stand in the event he should be called to testify before the Frawley investigating committee, Peck swore.

The Governor, Peck asserted, had told him that he, too, would deny having received contributions. This conversation, he said, was held in the Governor's office at the Capitol. The witness was examined as to the precise words used by the Governor.

"What did he say?"

"He said: 'Do as I shall do, deny it'."

"What else was said, if anything."

"I said, 'I suppose I shall be under oath.' He said, 'that is nothing, forget it'."

Attorney Hinman, cross examining for the defense, asked Peck if it were possible that he could be mistaken about a single word.

"Not a word," Peck replied emphatically.

Peck, at the time of his contribution held his present position, but told the Governor, he said, that there were "no strings" to the gift and that he did not feel he was obligated to re-appoint him. Peck was re-appointed.

Asked Ambassador "to be Easy."

The Governor asked Henry W. Morgenthau, Ambassador to Turkey, who contributed $1,000, to be "easy on him," and to "treat the affair between us as personal" in the event that he should be called to testify. This Mr. Morgenthau swore to when recalled to the stand today.

The Governor's attorneys apparently were completely confounded by the testimony of these two witnesses. None of them had the faintest inkling, it was learned, that such accusations were to be brought.

It further was brought out that Richard Croker, Jr., son of the former leader of Tammany Hall, had contributed a $2,000 check, payable at the request of Sulzer, to the order of "Cash," and that the check was cashed by Frederick L. Colwell, alleged to have been the Governor's agent in his Wall Street transactions. Croker testified that the Governor wanted the check in a convenient form to cash it immediately, because he was in a hurry to start on his campaign trip through the State.

This was October 16th, but it was developed that Colwell did not cash the check until October 31st.

Demand Colwell's Production.

The latter testimony was given by William B. Houghton, paying teller of the Equitable Trust Company, of New York. Demand for Colwell's production today brought out a statement from the Governor's attorneys that they expected to get in communication with him tonight or tomorrow. He has been missing several weeks.

The Croker check was one of several unreported campaign contributions that were the subject of testimony today. John W. Cox, Thomas W. Brady, John T. Dooling, J. Temple Gwathmey, Luitpold Mendelbaum and Judge Lewis J. Conlan, all of New York, testified that they had contributed checks or cash ranging from $100 to $1,000, none of which was mentioned in the Governor's sworn statement of campaign contributions.

Counsel for the defense fought desperately to gain from each witness testimony that he had made the gift not for the purpose of helping the Governor in his political contest, but to aid him personally.

"Didn't you give this check because you knew that the Governor was in an impecunious condition?"

"Didn't you? You know the Governor was hard up?"

"Didn't you give to him to help him out of the difficulty?"

These were questions by which Judge Herrick sought to obtain from the witnesses admission that they had placed no restrictions on their contributions.

Objection of counsel for the prosecution to admitting evidence that showed the intentions of the donors twice was overruled by a vote of the court, which was in keeping with opinions previously rendered by Presiding Judge Cullen.

Croker, Dr. Cox, Judge Conlan and Brady all testified that their contributions had been given to the Governor for other purposes than campaign expenses if he wished so to use them.

Governor Was Hard Up.

Brady testified that he and Judge Conlan and other contributors to the fund had discussed the question of the Governor's financial condition at the Manhattan Club, in New York.

"Did you talk about the necessity of doing something to help him because of his financial condition?" asked Judge Herrick.

"Yes, we did," said Brady.

Gwathmey, on the other hand, produced a letter he had sent to the Governor, which read:

"Enclosed please find $100, which I wish you would hand to the people who are conducting your personal campaign as I wish this money to be devoted to that cause alone."

The prosecution brought in today the first testimony to support charges that the Governor used some of his campaign funds to speculate in Wall Street. Philip Boyer, head of the New York stock exchange firm of Boyer, Griswold & Company, and two of his employes testified to the purchase by Colwell of $12,000 worth of Big Four stock, paid for by seven checks given Sulzer, his own personal check for $900 and $7,125 in cash. These checks were those of Theodore W. Meyers, John Lynn, Lyman A. Spaulding, Edward F. O'Dwyer, John W. Cox, the Frank W. Strauss Company, and John T. Dooling.

Murphy Would Testify.

New York, Sept. 26.—Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, said this afternoon:

"If they want me to testify at Albany, there is no necessity of a subpoena being issued for me. Let them call me up on the telephone and I'll answer right away. I will be willing and ready to go."

Cotton Soaring, New High Level

New Orleans, Sept. 26.—March and May cotton options broke the 14 cent level today and at the highest the entire market was up 25 to 27 points because of a series of influences.

In the morning reports of heavy rains throughout the western half of the belt sent prices up. Mill takings for the week then were announced as very heavy which influenced the market upward. News from Washington on the Clarke cotton future amendment to the tariff bill, considered favorable by the traders, sent prices further up.

Bulls in Control in New York.

New York, Sept. 26.—There was a renewal of bullish excitement in the cotton market today which sent prices 30 points or more above the closing figures of yesterday, with October contracts selling at 13.91, or within nine points of the predicted 14 cent level, and approximately $15 a bale above the low level of last August.

Reassuring reports from Washington as to legislative probabilities and additional bad crop accounts from the Southwest, were said to be creating a more active demand from both foreign and domestic spinners.

Democrats Finish New Tariff Bill

Washington, Sept. 26.—The tariff bill tonight is a completed document, except for the provision taxing trades in cotton futures. After more than two weeks of constant work behind closed doors, the eight Democrats representing Senate and House, as members of the conference committee, late today settled the last of their other differences, and reached the final decision that they could not agree on the cotton futures tax.

Early tomorrow a completed proof of the conference report will be taken up for revision for the Democrats. The six Republican members of the committee were summoned today to meet at a full committee meeting at 10 o'clock Monday. The formality of submitting the conference report to the Republicans will not take much time, and it is believed the report will be presented to the House Monday afternoon by Representative Underwood.

In the final session today a further futile attempt was made to settle the fight over the cotton futures tax. Senate conferees changed front and agreed to give up the Clarke amendment altogether but House members refused to permit this. The Senate,

Currency Bill Still Hangs Fire

Washington, Sept. 26.—With enough witnesses desiring to be heard to consume two or three weeks and requests for hearings on the administration currency bill still coming in, the Senate committee today adjourned until Monday. Today had been set for hearing protests of New England bankers. The committee will resume with a continuation of the examination of Samuel Untermyer, who spent a part of two days before the committee this week.

The hearings have developed a wide range of disagreement. So divergent are views expressed in the examination of witnesses that some members believe the committee will be unable to agree on a bill built along lines of the administration measure. If disagreements continue it is possible that after the views of bankers and business men from all the country have been considered, an attempt will be made to report the bill to the Senate without recommendation.

In this event, a series of minority reports probably would accompany the measure, condemning different provisions or suggesting different changes.

Although scores of requests for hearings are being received from pros-

TRAIN ROBBERS GET BIG BOOTY

Alabama Great Southern Held Up, and Express Safe Blown Open.

REGISTERED MAIL IS TAKEN

Deputy Sheriff Accidentally Killed While Searching for the Hold-Up Men—Used Modern Equipment.

Tuscaloosa, Ala., Sept. 26.—Deputies from Birmingham and Montgomery and armed farmers of Tuscaloosa county, tonight abandoned an all day search for the three men who held up and robbed the express car of the Alabama Great Southern train at Bibb, Ala., shortly after midnight last night.

The case now is in the hands of the railroad special officers. Five men have been arrested at Eutaw, Ala., below Tuscaloosa, all youthful, and five others have been landed in the Tuscaloosa county jail, by Special Agent Hall. All of these men deny connection with the hold up.

The robbers stopped the train shortly after midnight by signals and forced the fireman to detach the locomotive, express and mail cars. Clerks then were frightened from the cars by a fussillade of bullets, and the engineer and fireman were ejected from the locomotive cab. After running the detached section a short distance down the track, the bandits dynamited the express car safe and rifled the registered mail pouches. The engine then was uncoupled and started wildly down the track. It was found several hours later near Englewood, Ala.

Posses from Birmingham and Montgomery soon were scouring the country with bloodhounds.

Secured $50,000.

It was estimated today that about $50,000 was obtained by the robbers, which included a heavy shipment of currency from the East to New Orleans.

James Bonner, a deputy sheriff of Birmingham, was shot and killed, accidentally today by another member of the posse, of which he was a member.

Mail Clerk Leander Poole today gave out the following statement:

"The robbery was committed by three masked men, only one of whom appeared to me to be at all experienced. The other two were young and nervous. One of them did considerable promiscuous shooting and cursing in the mail car.

"Bullets passing the car narrowly missed four men. I am confident the robbers were drunk. While crouched under the counter, I had the presence of mind to save a few registered letters.

Used Heavy Charges.

"The last charge of dynamite that blew the express safe was very heavy. It jarred us, 100 yards away. They had modern appliances equipped with light that threw rays so they could see us but we could not see them. As they were marching us back to the passenger coaches I fell into a cattle guard and sprained my ankle. One robber warned us of the cattle guard just as I fell.

"The fireman said the robbers got off with mail sacks full of booty. I believe I can identify the robber who did the shooting and cursing. I got a good look at him. The smaller robber, who guarded the rear end of the express car, seemed experienced. The express messenger had no chance to defend himself."

According to statements of the train crew, Engineer Daniels and his firemen were covered with revolvers as soon as the train was stopped on the block danger signal. After the robbery the men jumped on the engine, forcing the fireman to open the throttle. They forced the fireman to jump from the engine a short distance from Bibbville.

The entire train that was held up at Bibbville last night was taken to Meridian, Miss., the southern terminus of the division, this morning. The baggage car had a large hole torn through the roof from the explosions which blew the safes and the mail car showed bullet holes from the promiscuous shooting by the robbers.

Negro Porter Game.

The negro porter was removing the velocipede usually used to flag trains when stopped by block danger signals. He was ordered by one of the robbers to halt, but pushed the pistol out of his face and grappled with the highway man, throwing him and holding him securely until another masked man stepped up and hit him over the head. The negro then ran under the baggage car to keep from being shot.

Late tonight conferences are being held by Sheriff Palmer, his deputies engaged in the chase, railroad detectives, express company officers, private detectives and detectives from National agencies.

Montgomery, Ala., Sept. 26. — A Federal investigation, it is said, may develop from the robbery, as the result of an assertion by members of the train crew to the effect that four of the mail clerks and express messengers were unarmed at the time of the robbery.

Nervy Woman Passenger.

New Orleans, Sept. 26.—More than a score of New Orleans people who were on the Great Southern train held up near Bibb, Ala., arrived here late today. They said that as soon as it was ascertained that bandits stopped the train, the sleeping car conductor ordered every door in the two sleeping cars locked and told the passengers to hide their valuables.

Mrs. Isabella L. Sterrett, wife of a Richmond, Va., lawyer, did not heed this worning. Clad only in her night clothes, with her two-year-old baby in her arms and a pistol in her had, she crawled through a window and hid in the bushes nearby. She was not mo-

AVERTED LYNCHING IN ROCKINGHAM

Hamlet Wife Murderer Spirited Away While Trouble Was Brewing.

CROSS-COUNTRY AUTO FLIGHT

Seaboard Air Line Train Caught at Hoffman, N. C., and Prisoner Taken to Raleigh, N. C.—Nance Unconcerned.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Rockingham, N. C., Sept. 27.—By a hair's breadth, George S. Nance, the insane Hamlet wife murderer, escaped an attempted lynching here tonight. About 7 o'clock Sheriff Homer Baldwin was warned by friends that full plans had been laid in a neighboring town to storm the jail and take the life of his prisoner.

On Wednesday when his trial was to have been called, Nance having been examined by a dozen or more alienists, was declared to be dangerously and incurably insane, and his commitment to the insane ward of the State penitentiary ordered by the court.

Preceeding, throughout and after the inquisition, which resulted in this unanimous conclusion by the specialists, there were those who held that Nance was only playing his own part well and giving his attorneys a chance to play theirs. This feeling did not down, even after alienists summoned by both State and defense had rendered a like decision. Accordingly, Sheriff Baldwin was prepared for tonight's impending trouble. When notified that already desperate men were beginning to move toward Rockingham, from the neighboring town mentioned, thick and fast grew rumors to the same effect and by 8 o'clock suspicious characters began hovering about this city's principal street corners.

Sheriff Acts Quickly.

The situation having become alarming Sheriff Baldwin, sure of himself in case the trouble which was so apparent on every hand became a realty, yet anxious to exert every energy to avert bloodshed, decided in the few brief minutes allotted to spirit away the prisoner and deliver him to the penitentiary authorities. The sheriff planned quickly. Remembering that Seaboard train No. 2 from Jacksonville passed Hamlet at 9:55, he decided to have it held at some point north of that place, till with the prisoner he could arrive.

By a wild drive through the Richmond county hills in a late model high power touring car, the sheriff and a small force of trustworthy deputies, having Nance in charge, were hurled through space, as it were, to catch the speeding northbound train at Hoffman, 16 miles distant, thus eluding the mob and saving the fair name of Richmond county from this disgrace of an attempted lynching from the shadow of a great social crime.

Nance Very Cool.

In the moments of greatest excitement, Nance was the coolest man present, showing not only gratitude for the sheriff's efforts but bravery of a high order. At a sudden dangerous curve when the high-geared machine cut a semi-sumersault, he smiled and lent assurance that "a righteous man needn't fear small matters like that."

Nonchantly he discussed the crops, farming conditions in the State, etc. The dead wife was mentioned by the prisoner once on the journey. Turning in the midst of conversation on other topics, he inquired if he could have the jewelry she had worn as a precious keepsake to carry through life with him. On being informed that all of it had been turned over to her people, the prisoner was visibly affected and for several moments remained silent. When he did wake from the spell it was to pass your correspondent a dollar and suggest that all the boys have drinks on him.

During the seeming-winged flight, the prisoner wished to know why the courts could not measure out justice at this rate, declaring his deep regret that those fellows, the alienists and attorneys, had played this joke on him and denied him a trial.

Nance's last word to those who did not continue the journey with him was: "I will see you again soon boys, don't worry."

The condition of the prisoner's mother was heart-rending when she learned of the plans of the would-be lynchers. "Save my boy, save him," was the wail from the depths of her mother heart.

On returning to Rockingham at 1 A. M., the sheriff's party, which had been accompanied by your correspondent on the hazardous rescue journey, found the groups of uncommunicative men still hanging about the otherwise forsaken Court House, and in the shadowed places near the street corners, but the prisoner's escape is becoming known and it is not expected the mob will march on the jail. If so, disappointment happily will be its only reward.

PURSUING WILL-O'-THE-WISP.

Photograph of Joseph Ellis Identified at Louisville—Brokaw.

Louisville, Ky., September 26. — A photograph of Joseph Ellis, of Richmond, Va., sent here by his father, was today positively identified by Maurice Raff as the likeness of the young man who last week robbed him of a gold watch and a sum of money at a hotel here. The photograph also was identified by others who met young Ellis here.

It was declared that Ellis and Fred. Brokaw are two distinct individuals, although they greatly resemble each other, and although photographs of Brokaw previously had been identified as Ellis.

CHAMPION GOLFERS MEET.

Ouimet Defeats Travers, Giving Boston Lead in Inter-City Match.

Brookline, Mass., Sept. 26.—Champion met champion today and Francis Ouimet, America's National open golf titleholder, added to his recent laurels by vanquishing Jerome D. Travers, the National amateur champion. The match went 20 holes before the youth prevailed.

Ouimet's victory marked a clean sweep for the players of the Boston district, against those of New York in the singles division of the preliminary tie for the Lesley cup. New York won three out of five foursomes matches but the inter-city score for the day was Boston, 12; New York, 3. The local team will meet Philadelphia present holder of the Lesley cup in the finals tomorrow.

Athletics Are An Even Bet

New York, Sept. 26.—Despite the general belief that the Giants have quite an edge on the Athletics in the fight for the world's championship, even money is all one can get here today. A number of wagers were made at this price. One bet of $200 on this basis was reported in addition to numerous wagers that were placed several days ago. One broker on the curb announced that he had $1,000 which he was desirous of placing on the Giants at even money to win the flag.

(No. 1 Merkle vs. McInnis.)

The first step toward winning a ball game is that which beats the throw to first base. And the man who beats the throw to first base is taking the first step toward saving a ball game.

Introducing, ladies and gentlemen, high and lofty throw-eaters, Merkle and McInnis, first basemen extraordinary of the respective world's championship contenders—the Giants and the Athletics.

With Merkle you are acquainted. He has been shown on the world series curtain before. Remember what Tony said about him?

"The evil that men do live after them; the good is oft interred with their bones; so let it be with Merkle."

Fred is famous for what he did NOT do—not what he did. But he always touches second now.

McInnis, you do not know in a world series way, unless you base your acquaintance on the last inning of the last game in 1911, when Stuffy limped painfully into the series, from which injuries had expunged him.

But he will be in this one. Decidedly IN!

McInnis is as good a ball player as his name is Irish, he is a scrappy aggressive youngster—the best in the American League, and playing with the ease and natural grace that causes you to exclaim "There's a born ball player!"

He thinks, runs, and fields as well as he hits—and he hits over .330!

Mr. Merkle, meet Mr. McInnis!

MRS. STEVENS RESIGNS.

Southport Lady Will Not Teach at Newbern—Comes to Wilmington.

Newbern, N. C., Sept. 26.—Another vacancy was made in the faculty of the Newbern graded schools on Thursday when Mrs. Charles L. Stevens, who last year had charge of the department of mathematics, sent in her resignation. Mrs. Stevens' home is at Southport and in order that she might be near there, she has accepted a position with the faculty of the Wilmington High School and will assume her new duties at the opening of the school.

Mrs. Stevens is a capable and efficient teacher and her work here was entirely satisfactory. Prof. F. W. Morrison, of Spencer, the new principal of the school, arrived Thursday to take charge of his new work. The school will be opened for the Fall term next Wednesday and those teachers who have not already put in their appearance are expected to arrive today or tomorrow.

PROGRESSIVES NAME TICKET.

Candidates for Two Judgeships in New York—Several Women.

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 26.—Theodore Roosevelt, Theodore Douglas Robinson, Progressive State chairman, and other party leaders, arrived here this evening from New York to attend a meeting of the Progressive State committee tomorrow.

Col. Roosevelt went to a hotel with a detective, whom he dismissed with the word that he would not leave his room until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. The State committee will nominate candidates for chief judge and associate judge of the Court of Appeals and discuss the policy of the party in the coming campaign. Col. Roosevelt will address the committee at a public session. The Progressive State committee consists of 175 members. Several women have membership in the committee, but no votes.

POST SEASON SERIES.

Naps and Pirates Make Arrangements to Try Conclusions.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 26.—President Somers, of the Cleveland American League Club, announced today that President Dreyfus, of the Pittsburg National League club had accepted his challenge for a post-season series of games.

The National Baseball Commission will decide the date and place of the first game.

Support Saved Him.

Joe Boehling, the sensational young left-hander, was very wild, but five fast double plays saved the game for the Senators.

THE ETERNAL DOPE.

(By Grantland Rice.)

Ed Ray, the English golfer, might make a great batsman, but he would never last as a catcher. He couldn't keep a pipe out of his mouth long enough to wear a mask.

Pass the Asparagus.

Sip—I note that you suggest that while Washington may be the Father of his country, Ouimet is its Par. I agree with you. I think that his case is without PARallel in the history of the game. Of all who PARticipated, he was easily the star, PARtaking of the chief glory. Begging your PARdon for this PARoxysm, etc.

The Cinch Tip.

As we understand the situation after reading opinions from the experts, the Giants may or may not beat the Athletics, it depending largely on whether the Athletics beat or lose to the Giants.

"If McGraw starts Demaree in the first world series game," "Mack will counter with Shawkey." Batteries for the first game—Mathewson and Meyers; Bender and Schang.

Mathewson has opened two world series for McGraw and won both starts. Last season McGraw shifted to Tesreau for the starter and Jeff lost. A hunch is only a hunch and the dope is only thedope, but what would YOU do with this past history to figure on?

In this coming series Bender can work two games and Plank one. If the series goes to six games Connie's pitching staff for the other three will be the bludgeons of Collins, Baker and McInnis.

Joe Jackson led the batting from April 11th to September 11th. But you notice who is on top as they dash down the last section of the stretch into the wire. And it's only where you are at the finish that carries on into the records of what took place.

F. L. K.—To be fair about it, we can't say that America got the best of England to any great extent in the recent golf championship. Of the three who tied for first place, America, with 160 entries, landed one. England, with three entries, landed two. This is all the bigger boost for Ouimet, but not especially for the golf of America vs. the golf of England. America sent four of her cracks to England and one only qualified, finishing fifth. England sent three of her cracks to America and two tied for first place. This is about the answer.

COLUMBUS RACING.

Fields Were Large and All Times Comparatively Slow.

Columbus, Sept. 26.—All three of the class races, which with the finish of the 2:09 trot started Thursday, comprised the programme for the fifth day of Columbus Grand Circuit racing, were split up so that 14 heats were raced this afternoon. Fields were large and the time comparatively slow.

Grand Marshall took the one heat needed to settle the 2:09 trot. Bismya, of the Proctor stable, Readville, Mass., was favorite in the 2:19 trot and won after the first heat had been taken by Marta Bellina, second choice. The 2:11 pace, completed after the fifth heat, which was done in 2:18 1-4 with a sprint through the last quarter in 29 3-4 seconds, was won by Colonel Franklin.

FOUR ATHLETIC TWIRLERS FELL BEFORE THE RED SOX

SENATORS DOWN YANKEES

Griff Clan Approach to Within One Point of Naps—White Sox Won Close Game from St. Louis Cardinals.

Four Athletic twirlers fell by the wayside in yesterday's game with Boston and the world champions pranced off the field with another victory to their credit by a 10 to 4 score. Boardman, Houck, Pennock and Busch were batted out of the box in order during the game, while Leonard kept the 13 hits of the Athletics well scattered.

Joe Boehling, the sensational catch of the Washington Senators, continuel a la Marquard performance which he has exhibited since his string of 11 victories in the earlier part of the season, but fast fielding resulting in a total of five double plays, killed all the Yankees' chances for victory, and coming up to within one point of the coming up to within one ponit of the stand of the Cleveland Naps.

Pitcher Leverenz, of St. Louis, made his debut at Chicago yesterday and although he held the White Sox to five hits and struck out 10 men, the game was lost in the tenth inning by a 3 to 2 score.

Four Athletics Gone Bad.

Boston, Sept. 26.—No one of the four pitchers used by the Philadelphia American League team was effective against Boston this afternoon, the locals winning 10 to 4. Leonard kept the visitors' hits fairly well scattered.

New York, Sept. 26.—Boehling, the young left hander of the Washingtons was wild today, but whenever the New Yorks had a chance to score they hit into a double play. Washington made no fewer than five of these plays, which killed all of the locals' chances for victory.

CAPT. LARRY DOYLE INJURED.

Giants Crippled for World's Series—Maybe Both Doyle and Snodgrass

Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 26.—Supporters of the New York Giants in the world's series got a double shock today when they learned that Captain Larry Doyle had been injured in an automobile accident and Outfielder Fred Snodgrass had sprung a "charley horse" in the gamp at Ebbets Field. Both are not likely to play again for a week and may be out of the series with the Athletics for the world's championship.

Doyle received his injury last night as he was driving home in the automobile he won as the best all-round National League player of 1912.

Snodgrass opened the game today with a single to center and slowed up turning first. He limped around a minute and then retired in favor of Coper.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 26.—Because of injuries to many members of the Boston National League team, the proposed post-season series between the Braves and the Boston Americans was cancelled today, by agreement of the officials of the clubs.

How Athletics' Twirlers Perform

(By Joe Jackson, World's Greatest Natural Batsman.)

The Athletics will lose the world's series this year, because of a weak pitching staff. I look for the Giants to win four straight games.

Connie Mack's two best pitchers are Ed Plank and Chief Bender. Of the two the chief looks the better. He will be effective, as he always is.

Plank is tired from overwork and unless the few days' rest he will get before the series gives his arm the needed strength he will go into the series stale.

Joe Bush, one of Mack's youngsters, won't last over three innings if the Giants wait him out and don't hit until they have to. Bush strains every nerve and muscle in his body at every throw. He can't stand nine innings.

Carrol Brown doesn't use his best ball enough. He has a spitter as good as any I ever looked at when it is working right, and the spit ball is hard to hit. But Brown doesn't mix it enough with his other stuff. His curves and fast ball aren't enough.

Shawkey, Mack's third youngster, won't last any longer than Brown. Shawkey's pitching might hold out, but the crowd in New York will get his nerve.

Coombs, world's series veteran, and a real pitcher, when he is right, can't help Connie this Fall. A man just recovering from a serious illness such as Coombs had, can't possibly build up his strength in such a short time to last him through a game under the strain world's series pitchers work under.

There is just one chance for the Mackmen to win.

If the Athletics can hold a safe lead to the end, Connie may be able to rest up Plank and Bender and be on edge for the games.

This would put a different complexion on the series.

I'm pulling for the Athletics, because they're in the American League, but it sure looks like the Giants to me.

GRIDIRON SEASON OPENS.

Several Big Games in East, South and West Today.

New York, Sept. 26.—Football teams representing the leading universities of the country will swing into action today in earnest, most of the big teams having reserved their initial appearance for the last Saturday in September.

In the East, Pennsylvania, Princeton and Harvard all step from the practice to the actual playing stage, while in the Middle West, Minnesota and Indiana will lead the way for the other conference college teams.

In the South the University of Virginia will open with a game against Randolph-Macon, and West Virginia, Wesleyan, will journey to Carlisle for a game.

The Naval Academy team will not open its season for another week and the same holds true with the Army team at West Point. The cadets were scheduled to meet Norwich University today, but the death of Verney S. Belca, left half back on the Norwich team, as a result of injuries received in the game with Holy Cross Wednesday, caused the game to be cancelled.

REPRESENTATIVE RODDENBERY.

Funeral from Late Residence Sunday. Congressional Escort.

Washington, Sept. 26.—Vice President Marshall today appointed the following committee of Senators to represent the Senate at the funeral of Representative Roddenbery, who died yesterday at his home in Thomasville, Ga.: Hoke Smith, Georgia; Ashurst, Arizona; Thomas, Colorado; Martine, New Jersey, and Borah, Idaho.

Speaker Clark named the following House members: Bartlett, Adamson, Hardwick, Lea, Edwards, Hughes, Howard, Tribble, Crisp and Walker, Georgia; Langley, Kentucky; Godwin, North Carolina.

The committee will leave tonight.

PENNSY TO OBEY THE LAW.

Railroad Will Get Rid of All Extraneous Properties.

Philadelphia, Sept. 26.—What is believed to be the first move on the part of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company gradually to relieve itself of property extraneous to transportation, was made today when President Samuel Rea announced that the board of directors had decided to dispose of its security holdings in all anthracite coal companies that are attached to its systems.

The simple statement that the company intended to sell its hard coal interests was all that could be gleaned at the general offices of the corporation.

The announcement came close upon the report that the big railroad corporation is about ready to divest itself of its controlling interest in the Cambria Steel Company, which amounts to about $22,000,000.

In the absence of official information a report spread that the Pennsylvania officials, taking note of the signs of the times, were planning to dispose of the property in order not to come in conflict with the commodities clause of the Federal law, which prohibits railroads from transporting articles or commodities mined or manufactured by them or under the authority.

The Pennsylvania Railroad controlled its anthracite coal properties largely through the Susquehanna Coal Company. It mined and transported approximately 10 per cent of the total anthracite produced, little of which went to tidewater.

TIP TO WILMINGTON.

Navy Department Casting About for Marine Corps Recruiting Station.

Washington, Sept. 26.—The Navy Department is considering a proposal to transfer the Marine Corps recruit depot from Norfolk, Va., to Charleston, S. C., provided permanent housing facilities can be provided there.

The 1,000 recruits at the Norfolk station are quartered in tents on the Naval Reservation. It is held by some Navy officials that the Charleston site has superior advantages over that at Norfolk. It is pointed out that the enlargement of present quarters at Norfolk would encroach on land required for purely industrial purposes should the navy yard there be developed along lines which have been considered.

Advocates of the Charleston site say there is ample space there. Climatic conditions are such at the proposed site that instruction of recruits could be carried on out of doors nearly every day of the year. There also is ground for drill purposes and for a rifle range.

Officers are not decided as to the location of the permanent quarters at Charleston, if a more suitable site can be obtained elsewhere. They urge that the temporary makeshift of quartering nearly 1,000 recruits in tents, as at present at Norfolk, should be abandoned.

COMMISSION FAVORS OFFER

Report of Justice Rate Commission is for Taking the Proposition of the Railroads—Rates to Northeast Carolina.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 26.—Hon. E. J. Justice, of the Legislative Freight Rate Commission, has made public the report of the commission to Governor Craig submitted to the Governor some days ago, recommending the acceptance of the latest proposal of the railroad companies.

The report sets out that the aggregate amount that would be saved to the shippers of the State through the acceptance of the proposal is so great that it ought not to be hastily or inconsiderately rejected. And it features that make it optional with the railroads to put into effect certain concessions or not, after the Legislature adjourns were removed, the proposition would be acceptable pending the settlement of the principle with reference to long and short hauls, which might result in greater reduction, or at least which might remove arbitrary discrimination and extortion. The report points out that the State's policy as laid down at the last regular session of the Legislature is that there shall be no greater charge for a short haul than for a long, the short haul being included in the long and both hauls being in the same direction where the freight hauled is of like character.

Offer on the Whole Acceptable.

After a lengthy review of the proposal and its ambiguities the conclusion is reached that with these removed and the reduced rates to be in effect not later than 60 days the Legislature could well afford to accept it, with no restriction as to seeking relief from other excessive rates not treated in the proposal. "The benefits received by the State will be inadequate", says the report, "but the aggregate amount of the reduction will be substantial, and the condition that the State will not disturb particular rates for two years, is not so serious or objectionable as to justify the declination of the proposal."

Northeastern Carolina Benefits.

The Corporation Commission issued a statement today to the effect that more substantial reductions will be worked out on rates from the West to the northeastern section of the State, where it had not been understood before that any reduction would be made, than to any other section of the State.

No reductions are to be made in the rate south of the basing point of Norfolk on the line out of Norfolk to Washington; the line via Norfolk to Edenton; the Coast Line to Kelford, and the Seaboard via Boykins to Lewiston, until the rate out of Norfolk gets beyond 45 cents first class from Norfolk, and, therefore, no reductions had been heretofore mentioned to points on these lines.

It is now learned, however, that the proposition making the rate of 77 cents from Ohio river crossings to Weldon the maximum rate to all points on the northern border, will result in the most substantial reductions on the lines mentioned, growing out of the fact that heretofore no through class rates have been published from the West to these points, and they have been denied the benefit of the proportional rates obtained up to the Virginia cities, so that while they have had lower rates out of Norfolk than other points in the State, their through rates from the West have been higher. Under the proposition as it now stands Elizabeth City will get reductions of 15 cents first class from Cincinnati and related points; Edenton 25 cents reduction; Aulander 28 cents, and Rich Square 37 cents, with corresponding reductions on other classes.

Will Give Marked Reductions.

This will give very substantial reductions to practically all towns in Northampton, Hertford, Bertie, Gates, Chowan, Perquimans, Pasquotank, and Currituck counties.

This section of the State has been made largely tributary to Norfolk, the Corporation Commissioners say, by reason of its through rates being on the full combination via Norfolk. The commission predicts that these reductions in the through rates will put a number of prosperous wholesale and jobbing houses in the counties included in this zone.

Good Roads Bill.

A special committee from the North Carolina Good Roads Association is now preparing a bill to be introduced at this session of the General Assembly to create a State highway commission on a basis that will be very inexpensive to the State, it is said, and at the same time be capable of accomplishing a very great deal of good in the furtherance of the good roads movement.

There is also an amendment to the charter of the Chatham Lumber Co., of Durham, whereby the capital is increased from $50,000 to $449,000. W. B. Harris is secretary.

Hon. Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy, has authorized two officers of the North Carolina naval militia to accompany the Atlantic fleet on its cruise in European waters and the duty of selecting the two officers who shall take this cruise has been delegated to Commander C. D. Bradham, of the militia.

Commissions were issued today from the office of the adjutant general of the North Carolina National Guard to Senator George J. Studdert as captain, and Robert R. Hanby, as first lieutenant, Company G, Second Regiment, at Washington.

MOTOR BUSSES FOR NEWBERN.

Charter Received for New Transportation Company—Buying Cars.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Newbern, N. C., Sept. 26.—W. C. Willett, one of the incorporators of the Glenburnie Transportation Company, a Newbern company, which received its charter this week, will leave next Tuesday for New York to purchase several large motor busses which will be used by this company in transporting passengers to and from the city and the fair grounds and Glenburnie Park.

During the past few months a number of interesting events have been held at the fair grounds and the facilities for reaching that place have been rather limited. It was with this in view that the new company was organized. In addition to this Glenburnie Park will be opened next Summer and this bids fair to become one of the most popular pleasure resorts in this section. In addition to the operation of the motor line the new company will also operate a line of boats to the fair grounds and this will be in operation during the approaching fair.

A MARVELOUS VERDICT.

Jury Said Man Contributed to His Own Hurt but Awarded Damages.

(Special Star Teregram.)

Fayetteville, N. C., Sept. 26.—A verdict unprecedented in the annals of Cumberland county was returned today by the jury in case of O. W. Sasser vs. Hales-Bryant Lumber Co., when they declared that the plaintiff had contributed by his own negligence to his injury sustained in repairing the company's machinery—and at the same time awarded him $1,500 damages.

Counsel in the case had just signed an agreement that whatever the verdict may be, any motion should go over to next term. After dismissal of the jury, Judge J. Crawford Biggs, representing the defendant, asked for judgment in defendant's favor, while D. M. Stringfield, for the plaintiff, contended that the jury had only through ignorance answered "yes" to the issue as to the plaintiff's negligence, and asked for poll of jury. This could not be granted, as the jury had been dismissed. Motions as to the disposal of the case will be heard at the next civil term.

Sasser was hurt at the Wade plant of the Hales-Bryant Company, which owns a string of lumber mills. It is a Wilson company. Mayor O. P. Dickenson, of Wilson, and Stringfield and Stringfield, of Fayetteville, represented the plaintiff, while Judge Biggs, of Raleigh, and Major E. R. Mackethan represented the lumber company.

NO CLUE TO MURDERER.

Identity of the Party Who Killed Greensboro Merchant Not Known.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., Sept. 26.—Two days of investigation have failed to throw any light on the identity of the man or men who entered the grocery store on West Lee street early yesterday morning and shot to death the proprietor, J. H. Taylor. The coroner held his investigation yesterday but the brief report only stated that he "came to his death by a gun shot fired in the body by some person or persons whose identity we have not been able to discover." The funeral of the deceased will be held near Ruffin, Rockingham county, tomorrow.

W. B. Beacham has brought suit against the Norfolk Southern Railroad Company for $50,000 as damages for injuries he received when the train on which he was conductor went through the trestle over Deep river near Cumnock a few weeks ago. It will be recalled that while a passenger train was crossing the trestle the bridge gave way and the train went down. Several lives were lost in the accident. Mr. Beacham alleges that his spinal column was hurt and that he was terribly injured internally.

RIOTING IN BALTIMORE.

Baltimore, Sept. 26.—A negro woman, with a bullet in her leg and a negro man with a deep gash in his body, are in a hospital as a result of continued disturbances here tonight over the race segregation question. Several persons were struck by flying missiles.

Although the Mosher street house, occupied by negroes, which was bombarded last night, was guarded by policemen it again was attacked tonight and several additional windows were smashed.

Windows of houses occupied by negroes in other communities were smashed before the police succeeded in dispersing the crowds.

PITCHFORK AFTER HIM.

Senator Tillman Protests Against F. H. Weston's Appointment.

Washington, Sept. 26.—Senator B. R. Tillman, of South Carolina, went to the White House today to protest against the nomination of Frank H. Weston, recommended by Attorney General McReynolds, as United States District Attorney for South Carolina. Senator Tillman had endorsed J. A. Thurmond. He arranged to see the President later to discuss the matter fully.

The selection of Weston had been agreed upon tentatively by the administration, it is said, chiefly to aid Senator Ellison Smith in his candidacy for re-election.

A. C. L. PAYS $2,500 DAMAGES.

Case of R. E. Brown Compromised by Sum One-Half Former Verdict.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Burgaw, N. C., Sept. 26.—The case of R. E. Brown, agent for the A. C. L., was compromised here by the company paying $2,500. He had secured a verdict of $5,000 at a former trial, but the Supreme Court granted a new trial, and this compromise is the result.

It has been rather a dull week in court, not many cases being tried. The case of Malpass vs. the Tidewater Power Co., is being tried today. It is also for damages, for alleged injuries sustained. A number of Wilmington people are here as witnesses. It being a two weeks court, it is probable that the court will continue next week.

Washington, Sept. 26.—Secretary Houston, of the Department of Agriculture, announced today the appointment of L. M. Estabrook, now chief clerk, as chief of the Bureau of Statistics, in place of Victor H. Olmstead, transferred.

When It Comes to Using

ICE

without doubt offers in all respects the best Ice to be had in this market.

The water used is drawn from deep wells and is clear, pure and cold; it is distilled and double filtered, then reboiled making it absolutely pure.

It is then frozen at a very low temperature making Ice of the highest sanitary quality.

The best authorities on analytical chemistry prove our claim that no purer Ice than ours can be made.

Our Ice cuts clear and sure thus avoiding the waste in using so noticeable in other makes of Ice; therefore, careful and discriminating consumers will make no mistake in calling for our Ice on the grounds of purity, economy and general satisfaction.

Our delivery service is of the highest efficiency, combining certainty with celerity—early and late, and all the time on the job.

Our increasing sales prove in the most conclusive manner that we are serving the public with the real stuff.

Very truly yours for good, hot weather,

Some of the figures seen on the streets, don't lie either.

It takes a good chawtalker to be entertaining as a Chautauqua speaker.

A great many men defy contradiction and keep on defying it after they have been contradicted.

The best rainmaker continues to be the Sunday School picnic and next to it comes the county fair.

The Sulzer trial shows that some public men have mighty loose ideas about the proprieties in politics.

If the revised tariff does not reduce prices consumers will be sorry and Republicans will be sorely disappointed.

Wilmington seems to be boycotted by all the circuses. Nobody here has a chance to see either animals or snakes.

Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw, mother of Harry Thaw, denounced William Travers Jerome as a "human hyena". Why not call him a human jackal, since he seems to be good on the trail?

It is announced that if she is allowed to land, "Mrs. Pankhurst does not fear trouble." We should say not. People who make trouble wouldn't think of doing so if they feared trouble.

In the Tennessee Legislature a few days ago one member said to another, "You lie, you hound!" As the coroner didn't have to be called, it shows that the legislators have learned to consider the source.

The Republican, Democratic or Progressive professional politician who is in the game to win will take campaign subscriptions from a brewer, a banker or a monopolist, just so the money will help to carry the day.

The testimony of those who contribute to the campaign funds of all the parties shows that it bores them, while they feel like it is best for them to be on the safe side and keep in with whichever party wins.

President Wilson took time from his great duties at Washington to go to New Jersey to vote. His recognition of the responsibility of a citizen should be a reminder to those who won't go two blocks to vote and do their part as a citizen.

Tennessee seems to be about to have an insurrection against prohibition. The morally stunted seem to have had their nerve with them when they invaded the legislative halls with guns to deter the passage of further repressive legislation. When two extremes meet then comes a clash.

Governor Foss, of Massachusetts, has straddled so much that he hardly knows whether he is a Republican or Democrat. Straddlers generally take a survey of the field and get on the strongest side in spite of their convictions. Who ever saw a politician who was willing to win or lose by taking a positive stand on any question of the day

Moultrie is a southern Georgia town that is making fine progress, and lest we forget, it is the town that organized a $100,000 packing house a few days ago. Now comes the Moultrie Daily Observer with a 24 page "Land and Industrial Edition" that enables us to judge why it is that Moultrie is doing things. We hear of Moultrie every now and then because of that fact, but it takes just such a splendid edition as the Observer issues to press home the fact that there is such a wide-awake progressive town in Georgia. The edition is beautifully printed and handsomely illustrated, and such attractive and effective publicity cannot fail to be of great value to the live little capital city of Colquitt county.

Wilmington is getting in the class of the Million Dollar towns. The increase of its capital to that sum by the Murchison National Bank is a source of community pride and The Star extends its happiest felicitations to the Murchison on this splendid achievement in a financial career that has been nothing if not progressive and marvelous.

THE FREIGHT RATE COMPROMISE.

Just as The Star said, Governor Craig's recommendation that the freight rate compromise offered by the railroads be accepted, is being endorsed by some of the leading papers and men of the State in spite of the fact that the Just Freight Rate Association is opposed to compromising in any manner the sovereignty of the State. Both the Greensboro News and the Charlotte Observer urge that the Governor's recommendation be accepted by the General Assembly.

If we understand the proposition of the railroads, they make their concessions contingent upon their being let alone by the State for a period of two years while the new rate adjustment is being carried out. Then, in his message to the General Assembly Governor Craig says of the compromise:

"If the proposals for the reduction of transportation charges contained in this report be accepted, the reduced rates are to go into effect without delay, and the acceptance by the State of the proposals therein contained will be a settlement of all pending differences between the State of North Carolina and the railways in respect to rates on inter-State traffic therein adjusted, for a period of at least two years from the time of such acceptance."

That looks as if the railroads wish to bind the State in a contract to let them alone for two years, whether the compromise proves satisfactory or not, and yet Governor Craig goes on in his message to say:

"Under this proposition, we would secure the benefits of the reduction with but little expense, and as soon as the rates could be put into effect. Shall we accept these proposals and save to the State a vast sum of money, vouchsafe to her industries increasing prosperity without compromising the dignity of the State, and without yielding our right to proceed for any further reductions in rates not provided for in the adjustment; or shall we reject them and make war upon the carriers to compel greater reduction? By the acceptance, there are no limitations expressed or implied upon the State. Within her jurisdiction the State will exercise her sovereign power according to the dictates of her own conscience in the making and administration of the law. No one can barter away his right if he would."

We cannot reconcile the stipulation of the railroads for two years of immunity with Governor Craig's understanding that we can grant the railroads' terms to be let alone two years, and yet that we can do so "without yielding our right to proceed for any further reductions in rates not provided for in the adjustment." The railroads want to be let alone and that seems to us their purpose for compromising and stopping the entire fight. That is what will be done if the Legislature agrees to the compromise as we understand it.

NEW YORK ABANDONS THE NEGRO.

Southern Republicans, which principally means the colored vote, or rather population, will not have the power in Republican National conventions as heretofore, if success attends the movement to cut down Southern representation in Republican National conventions. The New York State Republican convention already has approved the new basis of representation, and if the Northern States generally do, Southern Republicans will not be able to hold the balance of power and practically dictate the nominees for President and Vice President. Commenting upon the action of the New York convention in taking this step to exterminate the "colored delegate," the Democratic New York World breaks it off in the Republicans in this manner:

"When the Republicans of New York in State convention approved the plan to 'revise the basis of representation in National convention,' they abandoned the negro at the South. They call it progress. In fact, it is reaction.

"New York Republicans offered no objection to full Southern representation in their National conventions when slaves lately freed were in the ascendancy. They were not opposed to big delegations from the South when the thieving carpet-baggers were in control of that section. They turn upon the negro; they invalidate the 14th and 15th amendments; they cast the negro south of Mason and Dixon's line adrift at this time because it is the easiest way to defeat the Northern bosses of their own party.

"When Charles Sumner gave citizenship to the lately emancipated slaves, for it was he who did it, he persuaded his fellow-partisans that by that act he guaranteed their power. Sumner has been dead for nearly 40 years, but the poor remnants of his body are in no more pronounced decay at this instant than his theory that racial and social distinctions could be wiped out by legislation.

"The decision of New York Republicans to restrict representation in their National conventions to votes actually cast amounts to approval of the nullification by Southern States of two of the war amendments. The disfranchised negro of the South is to have no voice even in the grand council of the party which boasts that it conferred upon him freedom and the ballot.

"What will the negroes who in normal times give the Republicans their majorities in various important Northern States say to this proposition?"

How can the New York Republicans get around the points made by the World and pressed home with such unerring logic? When the Northern Republicans thus eliminate the Southern colored brother, it will estop them from railing at the Southern States about their suffrage laws. The World editorial is captioned "New York Abandons the Negro," and if the National convention changes the basis of representation it will mean that Northern Republicans abandon the colored Republicans of the South.

THE TALKING ERA.

A few days ago The Star endorsed a Greensboro News article which exploited the idea that "talk" does a city good in the long run, and that the ultimate result of talk is the earnest action that starts a city upon the road to progress. Referring to The Star's adoption of the Greensboro idea, that "talk" is not so cheap, after all, the Daily News says:

"Quoting at length from an edtorial review, in last Sunday's Daily News, of some Greensboro community activities in recent years, The Wilmington Star says that 'talk' always precedes action, and it is a sure sign that when people begin to talk up their town and talk for it, either at times or all the time, they believe in it and will sooner or later get enthusiastic over it."

"We have been observant of the trend in Wilmington, and we predict as sure a near period of great achievement and community satisfaction. They are 'talking' more than at any time, we suppose, in the old town's history, and it means something. A good deal of the talk is rather acrimonious and this means that things are really being stirred up—it means agitation.

"The talk" that means agitation, as well as the acrimonious talk that means contentiousness or criticism, means that a city hasn't got the dry rot. In fact, isn't there more of it and more agitation of all kinds as a city grows larger and its larger interests clash occasionally?

However, our up-State contemporaries must not believe for a moment that Wilmington is doing nothing but "talk." Wilmington can talk and go ahead while she is doing it. Her commerce pushes the $65,000,000 point year in and year out, her jobbing business will go beyond the $80,000,000 mark this year, and her manufacturing products are now valued at $25,000,000 to $30,000,000 a year. How is that in addition to "talk?"

PROGRESSIVE ONSLOW.

Jacksonville township, Onslow county, has set other townships the pace in voting a bond issue for good roads. Lately the spirit of progress in the county has been quite manifest and the good roads election in the Court House township no doubt indicates that the others are soon to follow. It is a pity that the whole country had not voted at the same time and put the fine old county of Onslow on the map.

The action of Jacksonville township is making a good impression, for the whole county, one of the most resourceful counties in tidal Carolina. It is a county of versatile adaptibilities and great possibilities and when Onslow begins to feel the impetus from modern highway construction and the adoption of other progressive steps she will develop in accordance with her splendid geographic position and varied advantages. We expect to see the day when homeseekers will flock to that county and aid its excellent people in making it a veritable garden spot, such as its productive capabilities warrant in full measure.

The distinction between politics and business was very sharply drawn by several little incidents in the rate meeting at Raleigh. The plain business man with no axe to grind spoke out straight from the shoulder. There wasn't any doubt about where he stood. But the politician spoke as if in a fog. You couldn't see him. When he got through you couldn't tell "where he was at." He was in the middle of the road and on both sides. The gist of his utterances called to mind the time-honored platitude, "If you'll be good you'll be happy."

The Navy Department wants a suitable site for a permanent Marine Corps recruit depot. The affair at Norfolk is temporary, one thousand men being housed in tents. Charleston is in the game with the offer of a site. What's the matter with getting that station here? There is a superabundance of ideal sites, the climate is simply perfect, health conditions are fine. A dispatch in this morning's paper is, indeed, a tip to Wilmington.

We must hand it to the gentlemen who direct the destinies of the railroads for understanding human nature. It is very adroit to play off sectional feelings and interests against each other, and it may result in splitting the freight rate organization; but here's hoping that the shippers and business men of North Carolina will stand like a stone wall for fairness to every section and for relief in full from the unjust rate situation.

Since the packers predict that beef will yet sell at $1 a pound, we will become more addicted than every to oysters and fish.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Now that Oregon's Industrial-Welfare Commission has fixed $9.25 a week as the minimum wage for women clerks, we shall have a practical test of how such compulsory reforms work. If the wage question could be everywhere adjusted by simple edict, so as to give universal satisfaction, what a happy world this would be!—New York World.

We are sorry that Governor Craig has recommended acceptance of the railroads' proposal without insisting on some relief for the port cities as well as the inland cities. We hope the Legislature will yet do something. But if it doesn't the only thing left to do is to do the best we can under the circumstances. We believe the State will yet see the folly of not looking out for the eastern cities.—Newbern Journal.

A few good steamship lines coming into Newbern, Wilmington, and the other port towns would be a great thing both for the port towns and for the interior of the State. If the State however, does not yet see the wisdom of extending State aid, then the port towns might at least make a beginning themselves. The ideal solution of the rate problem is by application of an economic remedy rather than a legal.—Newbern Sun.

Alcohol is bad for a man; opium is worse; hasheesh and chloral are worse than either opium or alcohol, but John Barleycorn, the pipe and the hypodermic all fade into insignificance beside the "joy powder", the most monstrous drug of them all, cocaine. Alcohol, opium and the rest, destroy the physical and finally the intellectual man; cocaine destroys the moral man. The commoner drugs poison the body; cocaine poisons the soul. If, as some maintain, the man who sells the first four is guilty of destroying indirectly the lives of his fellows, and therefore is to be classified in the same category with murderers, the coke dealer is guilty of destroying indirectly their souls, and is therefore to be classed with no earthly criminal—his chief is Apollyon, angel of the bottomless pit, and his fellows are the bearers of the flesh-fork.—Greensboro News.

Governor Locke Craig administered a stinging rebuke to the jury in Wake county that convicted Rev. R. L. Davis of an assault on one Wiley Straughan with a beer bottle, in granting to Mr. Davis a full and free pardon. The punishment was trivial, but this conviction outraged more people in North Carolina than in any case in court tried in the State in a decade. Everybody knew that Mr. Davis was as innocent of the crime as any gentleman in Raleigh, and they also knew that the whole farce was an attempt to injure the cause of prohibition in North Carolina. But the conspirators have been flattened by the club they intended for other heads than their own. The Governor, who is a just and honest man, intervened in the interest of right and justice, and vindicated an innocent man the courts had unjustly condemned. What shall we say of the courts, when the power of the Governor has to be invoked to right their wrongs and counteract their wicked decision? Whose life or reputation is safe in such a community? As for the effect of this judicial joke it will be far reaching in favor of the cause of prohibition; but it will not tend to heighten the public opinion of the justice and fairness of our courts.—Charity and Children.

The Legislature could do North Carolina no better turn than to accept the recommendation of Governor Craig and make a start toward an end in the accomplishment of the demands of the Just Freight Rate Association. Governor Craig frankly states that the terms offered by the railroads are by no means all that is wanted, but they are of a character which would make their acceptance desirable. The promise is that in two years the State would have what it is now demanding in the way of freight rates. In the proposition is offered a way out of the trouble—not at once, it is true—but in a period of time shorter possibly than the remedy could be secured through the Inter-State Commerce Commission. Governor Craig's motive cannot be questioned. If the Just Freight Rate Association is lacking in faith in the Governor, it surely could not discount the recommendation of Mr. Justice. Pursuing the course advocated by Governor Craig and thus declaring the legislative slate of the freight problem, the session could have what is greatly to be desired—ample deliberative time for the discussion of the amendments, would secure immediate relief in the freight rate matter to an appreciable extent, and would lead the way to a final command of the rate situation that would be satisfactory to the State and to the shippers. In other words, it would be paving the way to the attainment of the very condition the Just Freight Rate Association is contending for.—Charlotte Observer.

THE STOCK LAW.

To the Editor of The Star:

Will you again allow me and thousands of others to claim our share of the lion's paw in the present controversy concerning State-wide no-fence law?

The Star of July 30th contained an article from Mr. B. F. Keith, of Wilmington, who wants all the friends whose eyes are open to get busy and meet the Legislature in Raleigh on the 30th of September to present their cause. Also, the Chamber of Commerce endorse Mr. Keith's resolution regarding State-wide stock law.

Now, what interest have these gentlemen outside their own interest? These men are the so-called big men, the same class that has always dominated over the poor, working class who they have almost worked for the vituals and clothes. These gentlemen know nothing much about what the people need in the eastern counties which would ruin them forever. Those large swamps and poccosins, before these men should advocate a no-fence law they should visit parts of Pender, Duplin, Onslow, Jones and others to see if it would be wise to take the advantage of the people in that section.

Let these gentlemen come over to this part of Pender and take a look over our low lands, tidewater swamps, that are fit for stock only. They may go from near Topsail Sound to the Pender and Duplin lines and on through Duplin near Faison, and they can go a bee line from this section seven miles and never see a house or farm of any kind which are almost half the people's support. No ticks in these swamps like there is around Mr. Keith's farm. These gentlemen say if any person doubts what the stock law will do for a county, let him come to New Hanover that he may see for himself. Yes, that will do close around Wilmington, but how about off a piece. Well, here is what some of them see. They say they are ruined, that they cannot have either cow or hog or any other stock. They say it is simple highway robbery and cold-blooded murder and so in most places that I have heard from.

For instance, the county of Halifax adopted the no-fence law and quite a number of people moved over into Northampton on account of it. True, there are sections where no doubt the no-fence law is best for the people but the eastern counties. Now, I would like to know the difference, the lobby at Washington and at Raleigh. Is it possible that our representatives are not capable of doing for the people what they think is right? Why have any legislators, why not the big men go to Raleigh and make just such laws as they want? The fact is, that class of men want to gobble up the last thing. They are about the only ones and they know it, that would have bacon, beef, milk and butter to sell. Talk about the high cost of living, and it is high now, and let the stock law come broadcast and most of the working class will suffer. There are many things the cause of the high cost of living, and I would like to mention three of them. First, immigrants who come in great numbers, even from 1876 to 1910 more than half a million persons left Norway mainly for the United States, and when they come they settle down on colonies and go to trucking to ship north. They get fancy prices but they must eat and their corn and meat is to buy. The second is the automobile that has brought the worst stain on the South since Sherman's army passed through. It is said in North Carolina alone there are 900 and that 1,000 more are likely soon, and the cost between six and eight million dollars, and yet the cry is keep your money at home, but that is all gone.

The third is that part of our land is under no-fence law. Now, as the poor working class that has to foot the bill for all these big men, they have to pay for their autos, pay their rent, pay their insurance, feed and cloth them, pay all their expenses and they do no labor.

Can they put their hand to their heart and say that this is just, right and honest? The working class must and will come together sometime like a mighty wind with a velocity of 200 miles an hour. They will have to do it or work for their victuals and clothes. A SUBSCRIBER.

HUSBAND TRIED MANY MEDICINES

Did Everything Possible for Suffering Wife—Neighbor Comes to Rescue With Excellent Advice.

Clay, Ark.—Mrs. Sam Rice, of this town, says: "For ten or twelve years I suffered dreadfully with cramping, dumb chills and fever and was sickly all the time. I simply suffered terribly.

"After I was married, my husband would stand over me and cry, and say 'I wish I knew what to do for you.' He was always getting some kind of medicine for me, but it never helped.

"One of my neighbors advised him to get a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, which he did, and after I had taken the first bottle, I was relieved of pain and so much soreness, caused from cramping. My husband said for me to continue taking it, so I did, and now, thanks to Cardui, I am in perfect health.

"I used to have a yellow complexion, but since taking Cardui I can truthfully say that I have a beautiful complexion, and look like a girl of 18.

"I hope that all unhealthy women will at least try Cardui."

If you suffer from any of the numerous ills so common to women, try Cardui. It has helped so many thousands of other women, that it's unreasonable to think it will not help you.

Begin taking Cardui today. Your druggist sells it.

BUSINESS PROSPECTS GOOD

Average Crop of Cotton and Tobacco With Good Prices Prevailing Make Local Situation Very Encouraging.

While during the past month business locally has not been so good there is every indication that with the beginning of October money will begin to move freely, and that Wilmington and the surrounding section will have one of the best years commercially that it has ever had. There is no question but that there will be an average crop of cotton, and tobacco already marketed shows that this crop will be one of the largest that North Carolina has ever produced.

The best prices that have been paid for years for tobacco have prevailed this season, and cotton prices continue to advance. The farmer never has had a better opportunity to make money than he has this year, and as one business man expressed it yesterday, if the farmer who is in debt doesn't pay out this year he need never expect to do so. And this, of course, makes business good for all.

The heavy rains that extended through a period of ten days this month delayed the gathering of the cotton crop which was already somewhat late owing to the cool weather which prevailed during the latter part of August. While there has already been much cotton sold it may be said to have only really begun to move within the past week. The delay in gathering the staple has retarded collections for those who do a time business, but this delay is only temporary and is by no means due to unhealthy business conditions.

Another reason that may be assigned for the slack business that seems to have prevailed somewhat is due to the fact that with rising prices in the cotton market there has been a tendency to hold for higher prices. The market is advancing, and there is every indication that good prices will be paid throughout the season.

While tobacco is not raised extensively in this immediate section many Wilmington jobbers and wholesale merchants do a large business in the section north of Wilmington. The splendid prices paid for tobacco, the best in years, with the large crop makes a bright outlook for the tobacco grower, and thus furnishes an impetus to other business activities.

There are no indications of anything panicky in the local situation, and so far as can be seen now this should be a year of great prosperity along all lines. The Wilmington banks with the loan from the Treasury Department of $600,000 added to their already strong resources will be abundantly able to take care of the financial end of moving crops. While there has been a slight financial depression during the Summer there is no indication of such a condition at the present time. Business men are united in their opinion that business is good, and that they expect it to get better.

NOTHING DEFINITE YET.

Commercial Bodies Still Trying to Get Parlor Car Service.

No assurance has yet been received from the Atlantic Coast Line and the Southern Railway that the parlor service on the A. & Y. between Wilmington and Greensboro, which was operated through the Summer but discontinued a few weeks ago, will be resumed any time soon. The Wilmington Chamber of Commerce and the Greensboro Chamber of Commerce have taken the matter up with the railroad officials, but as yet have not received any definite reply, so it was stated yesterday by a prominent member of the local commercial organization. If the railroads do not accede to the requests of the two commercial bodies petition will be filed with the State Corporation Commission asking for this service, which is badly needed on the line. Members of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce believe that the Corporation Commission will order the parlor car service restored on the passenger train leaving Wilmington at 8:45 A. M. and reaching Greensboro at 4:47 P. M. Authority has been given the traffic committee to take the question to the Corporation Commission if it fails in its negotiations with the railroads. It is likely that some definite announcement will be made in the matter some time next week.

STORE IS ROBBED.

Quantity of Merchandise Stolen from Joseph Goldstein's Place.

The store of Mr. Joseph Goldstein at No. 827 Bladen street, was entered some time Thursday night by thieves whose names are unknown, and a quantity of merchandise stolen. The robbery was not discovered until yesterday morning when it was found that entrance into the store had been effected through the back door. A stepladder was used in order to reach the transom which was opened. The bolts on the inside of the door which held it fast were removed and the door opened. A box of underwear, and a quantity of ties, shoes and other articles were taken. The police are at work on the matter but have not yet secured a clue as to who the guilty persons are.

Must Make Connection With Sewer.

The health department yesterday afternoon turned over to County Solicitor Geo. L. Peschau a list of those in the sewerage district of the city who have failed to make proper connections with the city sewer line, and he stated last night that he expects to make out indictments aganist all these All the persons named in the list, it is understood, have been notified by the health department, but have so far neglected to make the connections in accordance with the ordinance bearing on the subject.

WANT NEW SEABOARD TRAIN

Planned to Have Train Between This City and Hamlet Connecting With Through Trains North and South.

A movement has been started to have the Seaboard Air Line put on a new train between Wilmington and Hamlet which will connect at the latter point with through trains north and south. While nothing definite has yet been done it is believed that with the proper concerted efforts on the part of Wilmington business men such a train can be secured. The Seaboard officials have the matter under advisement, but no action has yet been taken by them.

The plan that has been suggested is to have a train which will leave Wilmington at 6 P. M. and making only two or three stops between this city and Hamlet reach there in time to make connection with the Seaboard's through train from Jacksonville to Washington. Returning the train would leave Hamlet early in the morning reaching Wilmington between 9 and 10 o'clock.

The suggested service would undoubtedly prove to be most popular. It would enable passengers who wish to go to Washington and other Northern points to leave here at 6 o'clock in the evening and reach Washington early the next morning. The Atlantic Coast Line already has a train leaving here in the afternoon which places passengers in Washington the next morning, but with the additional service it would be possible to reach Washington over competing roads in practically the same length of time.

Returning it would be possible to leave Washington in the afternoon over the Seaboard and reach Wilmington the next morning. The new train would also make close connections with the Seaboard trains to Southern points which would be a great convenience to many of the traveling public.

It is to be hoped that the Seaboard officials can be prevailed upon to put on the train, and there is no reason for believing that they will not if sufficient support is given to justify it. It has been the policy of the Seaboard for the past several years to aid the business interests of the city, in many ways, and with the recent extension of its office here into a division freight and passenger agency it seems to be its aim to do even more for Wilmington in the future than it has done in the past.

CALLED TO WASHINGTON.

Col. Kingman, of Savannah, May be Named Chief Engineer Corps.

Col. Dan C. Kingman, of Savannah, Ga., United States engineer in charge of the Southeastern district, was summoned to Washington this week by the Secretary of War through General Leonard Wood, chief of staff, and while nothing was stated as to the object of the summons, it is supposed to have reference to his appointment as chief of the engineering corps upon the retirement of Gen. Rossell in October. Col. Kingman has visited frequently in Wilmington, and has many friends here who will be interested in learning of his likely promotion to this important position.

Gen. Rossell will be retired from the post of chief of the corps on October 11th, and while the question of the time when his successor is named lies entirely with the President, who will make the appointment, it is probable that the chief will be selected a week or two prior to Gen. Rossell's formal retirement. If Col. Kingman is named it will be his duty to select his successor in the Southeastern district which includes this State.

Others who have been strongly endorsed for the place are Col. George W. Goethals, Col. Edward Burr, Col. William M. Black and Lieut. Cols. Taylor, Sibert and Richie. The appointment of Col. Goethals has been practically eliminated because of his desire to remain on the isthmus until the completion of the Panama Canal.

In the event that Col. Kingman receives the appointment the two most probable men for the vacancy in rank left by him seem to be Lieut. Col. William C. Langfitt and Lieut. Col. Harry Taylor, both now stationed at Washington; the former being in charge of the improvements on the Potomac river and in the vicinity of Washington, and the latter being assistant to the chief of engineers.

It is said that should Col. Harry F. Hayes, assistant to Col. Goethals in Panama, desire to be relieved from duty there that he would most likely receive the appointment as Col. Kingman's successor, but it is probable that he will elect to remain on the isthmus as long as Col. Goethals desires his services.

MAY CHANGE SALARY ACT.

Constable and Deputy Sheriffs May be Put on Fee and Salary Basis.

Representative Kellum has written Sheriff Cowan regarding an amendment to the local county salary act which he purposes to introduce at this session of the Legislature. Along with the letter he sent a copy of the amendment, and asked that Sheriff Cowan submit it to the deputies for any suggestions that they might want to make. The change proposed would reduce the salaries of the deputies and constable to $60 but would allow them to make as much as $80 a month provided the fees they receive in any one month amount to that sum or more.

One article of the amendment reads as follows:

"Amend section 17 of Chapter 561 of the Public Local Laws of 1913 by striking out the words 'nine hundred' in line five and inserting in lieu thereof the words 'seven hundred and twenty.' Further amend said section by adding after the word 'respectively' and before the word 'and' in line five the following: 'but if either of said deputies shall in any one month turn in to the salary fund fees and emoluments of his said position as deputy more than $60, shall be paid by the county in addition to his regular salary so much in excess of his said regular salary up to $80.' And further amend section 10 1-2 of said chapter by striking out the words 'seventy-five' in line fifteen and inserting in lieu thereof the word 'eighty'."

Applicants Examined.

The Civil Service Commission of the city held a meeting in the office of the city clerk and treasurer last night for the purpose of examining applicants for positions on the police and fire departments. There were eight applicants before the commission, five desiring positions in the fire department and three on the police force. Chairman S. J. Ellis presided and in attendance also were Dr. J. H. Bornemann, Jr., and Mr. D. K. LeGwin, the other members, and Capt. Thos. D. Meares, the clerk. The commission will certify to the City Council the result of the examination.

The regular Fall term of United States District Court will convene in this city Tuesday, November 11th, with Judge H. G. Connor presiding. This will be the first term in months, but there are not a great many cases awaiting disposition, this being due to the fact that criminal offenses have been few in this district for the past several years. There are probably not more than 25 or 30 criminal cases appearing on the docket at the present time. There has also been a paucity in civil business.

Jurors for the term were drawn yesterday by Mr. S. P. Colliers, the clerk. The names of the jurors for the first week, beginning Monday, November 10th, but are not to attend until Tuesday morning, the 11th, are as follows:

REV. DR. W. M. MORRISON HERE

Distinguished Missionary of Wonderful Personality Will Preach at Local Presbyterian Churches Tomorrow.

Rev. Dr. W. M. Morrison, missionary from Luebo, Africa, will preach in the First Presbyterian church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. In the light of the personality of the man, this announcement is of more than passing interest.

A man who can take the spoken language of a savage tribe, reduce it to writing, construct a grammar for it, compile a dictionary, design the characters, have the type made, translate the Bible into the new language, then teach the savage heathen the Bible in their own tongue, and thereby transform their lives from savage cruelty to Christian love and faith and morality by giving them knowledge of the Savior and the power of His Gospel—the man who can do this and in 17 years transform a whole tribe of Africans from cannibalism into Christianity, is a remarkable man and one worth seeing and hearing; and such a man is Dr. Morrison.

He for 17 years has been the missionary of the Southern Presbyterian church at Luebo, Congo, Africa, over 1,500 miles from the coast. He will preach at the First Presbyterian church in the morning at 11 o'clock and at St. Andrew's Presbyterian church tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. Dr. Morrison is the man and his mission is the work that Bishop Lambeth, of the Southern Methodist church, commended so highly in his addresses several months ago at Grace Methodist church, this city. Dr. Morrison is very eloquent and forceful and the public is invited to hear him. He is being entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Philander Pearsall at their home, No. 314 South Front street.

It is of interest to know that he is a distant relative of Mrs. Stonewall Jackson, who was a Morrison. He is a native of the Valley of Virginia, and has something about him of the great Virginia General himself.

William Tate Wasn't Guilty.

William Tate, a young colored boy, who works on Mr. C. F. Seitter's place on the Castle Haynes road, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Sheriff Cowan and Deputy Sheriff Reynolds. Justice Harriss also went along to make sure that they got the right man. Tate was charged with assaulting Grant Barnes, colored, who is now in the James Walker Memorial Hospital, Monday, with a deadly weapon. Justice Harriss worked on the case several days, and finally got Tate located. Upon arresting him it developed that the two boys were digging potatoes and that Tate accidentally hit Barnes in his blind eye. The doctor fearing complications carried Barnes to the hospital and had the eye removed. Tate was discharged by Justice Harriss.

Property Conveyed in Trust.

In order to secure payment of certain notes due to the Murchison National Bank in the sum of $25,625 and to Mrs. Susan G. Holmes, Pierre M. Holmes and others in the sum of approximately $10,000 additional, The Holmes Grocery Co., yesterday filed for record a deed conveying to Mr. H. C. McQueen, in trust, the property now occupied by the company at Nos. 6 and 8 North Front street. The Holmes Grocery Co., is to remain in possession of the property in the usual conduct of its business. The value of the property conveyed by the deed of trust is considered to be easily worth $40,000.

THE RALEIGH RATE MEETING

Wilmington Men Return from Convention in Capital City—Feeling Strong That State Should Stand Firm.

Mr. J. G. McCormick, vice president of the New Hanover Branch of the State Just Freight Rate Association, who, in the absence of Mr. J. A. Taylor, acted as chairman of the Wilmington delegation at the recent meeting in Raleigh, returned home on the late Atlantic Coast Line train yesterday morning accompanied by Mr. L. E. Hall, and other members of the committee, who stayed over in Raleigh another day in the interest of the work of the association.

Mr. McCormick attended the meeting of the officers of the Freight Rate Association and the conference committee of the association and the officers of the Farmers' Union, which meeting was held in Raleigh Wednesday morning. Every section of the State and every city in the State was represented in this meeting, he said.

Mr. Forrester, of Greensboro, proposed that the pending proposal of the carriers be rejected, and that the present special session of the General Assembly create a new and distinct commission, with control over public service corporations. This resolution was unanimously adopted, and Messrs. E. R. Preston, of Charlotte; Dr. H. Q. Alexander, president of the Farmers' Union, and Mr. McCormick, were appointed a committee to prepare the resolution, and they, with President Tate, of the association, were selected to make a personal presentation of it to the Governor.

Resolution Adopted by Committee.

The material portions of the resolution are:

"1. That it is the sense of the meeting that the pending proposal of the carriers is unsatisfactory and unacceptable, because it does not give equal nor sufficient reductions to all parts of the State, nor to all classes of shippers.

"2. We endorse the proposition that the Legislature, at the present special session, create a new and distinct railway or public service commission to be appointed by the Governor, clothed with the fullest power of regulation and control of railways, telegraph, telephone and all other public service corporations with power of control and regulation of all matters pertaining to all public service corporations in North Carolina."

At a mass meeting held in the Auditorium on Wednesday afternoon, President Tate, of the Just Freight Rate Association, presided. He introduced Governor Craig, who made an earnest plea in favor of the acceptance of the proposal of the carriers. While the Governor's speech was given the most respectful consideration and was listened to attentively, it was soon apparent that he had not struck a popular chord, and that his position was a disappointment to his audience.

Mr. Justice, of the special legislative commission, also spoke, and dealt largely with theoretical and abstract propositions without taking the people into his confidence as to how he really felt about the proposal of the carriers, said Mr. McCormick.

Dr. Alexander Applauded.

The speech of Dr. H. Q. Alexander, president of the Farmers' Union, was the most enthusiastically received of any utterance before the afternoon meeting. Dr. Alexander clearly manifested the necessity of the special utilities commission, and left no doubt whatever as to how he and the 40,000 farmers in the State who were behind him felt about the freight rate situation. They recognized the intolerable burdens that the carriers have placed upon them, but they did not wish the acceptance of any proposition which did not do substantial justice to all concerned.

Dr. Alexander convinced all who heard him of his sincerity of purpose and of the fact that he was in hearty sympathy and accord with the principles of the Just Freight Rate Association.

Glenn Not Very Clear.

Former Governor Glenn also spoke and stated that he advised the Legislature to do what was right about the matter; to give fair and unprejudiced consideration to what the Governor had to say, and, if it was right, to accept the proposal; if not, reject it; but, so far as he was personally concerned, there was some doubt left in the minds of his audience as to just how he stood.

Mr. W. C. Dowd also spoke in the afternoon meeting, and very clearly manifested the doubt and uncertainty of the present proposition, and stated his views as to the adjustment of both our inter- and intra-State freight rate grievances.

At the conclusion of speeches the resolution adopted at the conference meeting in the morning was again presented, and was unanimously adopted by the entire meeting.

The evening session was held in the House of Representatives, and President Tate again presided. There were no set speeches at this meeting, and it is hard to give an accurate account of it so that one who was not present could form an idea of the intensity of feeling which pervaded the entire meeting to the effect that the proposal of the carriers was unfair and unjust and should not be accepted. It was clearly apparent that the speeches at the afternoon session had been in a large measure a disappointment to those who were most vitally interested in the work of the Just Freight Rate Association, and that it was felt that the proposition of the carriers was not made in good faith with any honest desire to remove the burdens which they had placed upon the entire people of the State, but with the idea that they would disrupt the State Just Freight Rate Association, and by arraying one section against another would so weaken the association that the fight could not be carried on any further, and that the people of the State would be compelled to be satisfied with the little relief which the proposition may carry with it.

Quoting the remarks of Mr. McCormick, who led the delegation from Wilmington in the absence of Mr. Taylor, the chairman, the News and Observer of Thursday morning had the following with reference to the position of Wilmington at the mass meeting:

"Mr. J. Gilchrist McCormick, of Wilmington, speaking for his home city, expressed appreciation of the sentiments expressed by Mr. Morrison and Mr. Dowd and said that while his people had the utmost confidence in and admiration for Governor Craig, they could not agree with him in his advocacy of accepting the railroads' proposition. If only the people will stand together they can get justice in the freight rate matter. The railroads have already agreed to do things they declared a few months ago they could not. He spoke with eloquence and enthusiasm and was heard with manifest interest by his audience. He stoutly opposed the acceptance of the

ROBERT FRENCH TAYLOR DEAD.

Sad and Untimely Death of Promising Young Wilmington Boy.

As a distinct shock to hundreds of his young friends throughout the city and with a sense of deep sympathy for the devoted parents will come the announcement this morning of the death of young Robert French Taylor, second son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Allan Taylor, which occurred at 11:45 o'clock last night at the James Walker Memorial Hospital to which the young man had been removed only a few hours previously owing to the sudden development of complications which made this step necessary.

Four weeks ago as the lad was preparing to leave for Woodberry Forrest College, Virginia, to prepare himself for college and to equip himself the better for the battle of life, he was stricken with typhoid fever and while for a time, his condition gave every hope, within the past week the patient exhibited little sign of recovery. Then came the complications, making necessary his removal to the hospital where everything possible was done to stay the ravages of the disease without avail. The end came peacefully at the hour named with all members of the family with him.

The young man's life gave promise of exceeding great usefulness and if the term may be used, he was the "favorite son of a tenderly devoted father and a loving mother. To them and to an elder brother, J. Douglass Taylor, a student at Washington & Lee University, Lexington, Va., and a younger sister, Mary, the tenderest sympathy of a host of friends goes out.

Mr. Douglass Taylor was telegraphed early last night of the critical condition of his brother and he is expected to reach here this evening. Meantime the body has been removed to the saddened home, No. 14 North Seventh street, where many friends called last night to be with those so deeply bowed down in grief. The funeral will probably be Sunday, at an hour to be determined later, and will be from St. James' Episcopal church, in which young Robert was confirmed only an Easter or more ago.

A LA HOBBLE SKIRTS.

Young Lady Falls from Sidewalk to Street—No Injury.

Early last night there was a rather indefinite report that an accident befell a young lady of the city during the afternoon. No particulars were vouchsafed by any one who professed to know of the mishap nor was there any indication of the extent of the hurt. The impression was left, however, that the young lady was rather badly injured. Ever alert for a good story, especially where the element of mystery enters, the reporter set out to get the facts. He called up the residence where the young lady lives and it happened that she answered the telephone herself. Had Miss Blank been hurt in an accident of some kind, she was asked. No Miss Blank, did not suffer any hurt, he was told. She hesitated. Here was mystery sure enough, and the truth must be ferreted out at any cost, thought the reporter. Summoning to his aid all the tact and skill that he was ever accused of possessing, the reporter began a probe of what he now felt certain was a delicate subject, but still one on which he felt that his paper must have more information in view of the report which had gained rather wide currency. The young lady was patient and had not left the telephone, while the reporter was making a mental survey of the situation, getting his questions in line, etc. Would she be so kind as to tell him how the accident happened, he timidly inquired. There was a pause and the reporter fancied that he saw her blush when she answered. "Why, yes, I fell from the sidewalk to the street as I started to walk across one of the thoroughfares, but I wasn't hurt."

Meet Early Next Week.

In view of the fact that the several committees are not yet quite ready to make report on the questions they are considering, it is not likely that a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be held this week, as was expected. The meeting will be held early next week, however, possibly Monday. There are several matters to engage the attention of the body at its next meeting.

ATTENDED NATIONAL SHOOT.

Dr. J. H. Dreher Took Part in Gun Tournament at Atlantic City.

Dr. J. H. Dreher has returned from Atlantic City, where he took part in an extensive gun shoot in which sportsmen from all parts of the country participated. Owing to the bad weather the shooters were somewhat handicapped, but there were many high scores made. Dr. Dreher did some good shooting but broke his gun, and was handicapped somewhat with the new one which he purchased.

Before going to Atlantic City he stopped over in Washington, D. C., and took part in a shoot of a local club. He carried off the honors on this day tieing with a gentleman from New Hampshire for high man. He made a perfect score in one of the events breaking 25 out of 25. He is a most enthusiastic gun sportsman, and thoroughly enjoyed his trip.

He was accompanied on this trip by Mrs. Dreher and children.

COURT MARTIAL OF WEST.

Result Not Known Yet of Trial of Captain of Cutter Pamlico.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Newbern, N. C., Sept. 26.—A message received here today from Washington, D. C., was to the effect that Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo had not made public the result of the court martial of Captain H. B. West, of the revenue cutter Pamlico, which was held at Baltimore on Wednesday, and would in all probability not do so until some time during the coming week.

The revenue cutter Pamlico is located at this port, and about four weeks ago sailed for Baltimore, Md., to undergo repairs and be equipped with wireless apparatus. Charges of neglect of duty and of conduct unbecoming an officer and gentleman were preferred against Captain West a short time after the boat's arrival at that port, and on September 10th Secretary McAdoo ordered a court martial. Much interest is felt here in the ultimate outcome of the trial.

railroads' proposition. He said if the same proposal had been submitted as to Wilmington, it would rather go ahead and fight and suffer a while longer than to accept what the railroads have offered. This statement was greeted with applause.

"He declared the people demand relief; they know they are entitled to it and they are not going to be satisfied with a compromise; and their representatives here had as well realize the fact."

Mr. Cameron Morrison, of Charlotte, made a very vigorous and effective speech which carried conviction to all who heard it. He stated that no man in the State thought more of the Governor and no man in the State could regret more deeply to differ with him than he did, but that he felt that the State of North Carolina was sovereign, and that the railroads should be made to recognize its power. Mr. Morrison's speech was applauded to the echo, and if any person had any doubt as to the fact that the Just Freight Rate Association, representing the entire State, thought that the acceptance of the proposition would be a mistake, he would have had the last vestige of it removed, had he been present at this meeting at the conclusion of Mr. Morrison's speech.

Every section of the State was represented, and every speaker took practically the same position in regard to the matter which Mr. Morrison did. The Just Freight Rate Association, with every section represented, at the evening meeting, was a unit against the acceptance of the proposal of the carriers. The statement in some of the newspapers that this meeting was in any way dominated by speakers from eastern Carolina, was a mistake. The facts as they are do not bear out this statement. Points as far west as Morganton were heard from, and they were against the acceptance of the proposition. Asheville and the Asheville section were represented in the meeting, and the whole interior section was also represented.

Think Governor Made Mistake.

Mr. Frank Gough, of Lumberton, president of the Robeson County Just Freight Rate Association, made a very effective speech against the proposition of the carriers. Mr. C. H. Ireland, of Greensboro, who has been one of the leaders in the fight, spoke strongly and earnestly against the adoption and stated that he thought that the Governor had failed to realize the temper of the people of the State when he decided to recommend its acceptance. It was clearly apparent that those who had the real interest of the movement at heart felt that the proposition was one which was larger than any question of personal interest, and that the only satisfactory solution of the problem could be obtained by the State standing as a unit for the revision of its entire freight rate structure, both intra-State and inter-State; that the Corporation Commission had been a failure; that the people were not satisfied with it, and that its work had not been acceptable. The men who were in the evening meeting were not politicians. They talked as they felt and there could be no doubt about how each man stood when he closed his speech. With the utmost deference to the Governor, without wishing to impugn the motives to anyone, they felt that he had made a mistake and that they would rather pay tribute to the carriers for a while longer han to submit to anything which did not approach substantial justice. It would have been hard to have gotten together a more representative gathering of the business interests of the State than were present at the meetings, both Wednesday afternoon and evening. It is to be doubted if there has ever been a single proposition before the people of the State about which they are more thoroughly aroused, and in regard to which they more clearly understand their rights, than in the present instance. They feel that it is more vital to the State than the success of any party and that without regard to party lines or affiliations that the people of the State are opposed to anything which is tantamount to a surrender of the principles for which they are fighting. They were not greatly concerned about technical refinements and fine-spun distinctions. They knew that what has been done elsewhere can be done in this State; that it is a question of whether the people of North Carolina are to be their own masters or servants of the railroads. These sentiments were freely expressed. There was no effort to conceal the fact that the keenest disappointment was felt by the Governor's speech in the afternoon, which forecasted his message to the General Assembly. It seemed rather hard to expect them to keep their hands to the plow when their leader was ready to turn it loose.

Mr. Forrester Changes Opinion.

Mr. Forrester, of Greensboro, constituted the single exception in the entire meeting to the above sentiments. He thought that it was as a matter of expediency unwise not to accept the proposal of the carriers, having come to this conclusion since the morning session of the conference committee.

Felt That Politics Played Part.

At the conclusion of the meeting the whole body again unanimously reaffirmed the resolutions passed at the afternoon session. Many expressions of regret were heard that there should be any appearance of anything which might lead to the belief that political considerations had in the slightest measure influenced anyone in the consideration of the proposition. The Just Freight Rate Association has stood and will ever endeavor to continue to stand as a unit without regard to party lines or sections and even if the result of its efforts in this instance shall not be what the people thought they had the right to expect, one thing remains clearly true, that they will know hereafter as to who to trust and not to trust. This idea was one uppermost in the minds of the people present, and it was manifest that they felt that if the fight was not one of successful accomplishments, that no fault should be found with President Tate and the Just Freight Rate Association.

The Wilmington delegation was one of the largest and most influential at the State Capital and included Messrs. J. G. McCormick, L. E. Hall, John H. Brown, E. T. Taylor, F. E. Hashagen, W. E Perdew, Wm. E. Springer, H. F. Wilder, E. A. Metts, M. A. Curtis, M. W. Jacobi, Isadore Bear, Waddell Watters, R. A. Parsley, H. E. Boney and C. O. McNair, Woodus Kellum and Marsden Bellamy.

"DICK" DOUGLASS SPEAKS.

Greensboro Postmaster Addresses Association at Norfolk, Va.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 26.—R. D. Douglass, postmaster at Greensboro, N. C., grandson of Stephen A. Douglass, was the principal speaker at today's joint session of the Virginia and North Carolina Postmasters' Convention. Mr. Douglass' address was on "Matter Mailable and Forbidden in the Postal Service."

Dr. C. P. Cranfield, of Washington, formerly first assistant postmaster general, a visitor at the convention today, spoke briefly.

A letter of greetings was read from First Assistant Postmaster General Daniel C. Roper, expressing regret at his inability to attend the convention, and expressing warm interest in the organization. The postmasters went on a boat trip to Hampton Roads.

The postmasters tonight rejected by an overwhelming vote a resolution containing what members regarded as a veiled criticism of the department at Washington. The resolution was offered by S. Brown Allen, Republican postmaster at Staunton, Va., and after reciting the fact that every previous convention of either the Virginia or Carolina association had been attended by some Washington official referred deprecatingly to the failure of the department to send a representative to the present gathering. Mr. Allen is president of the Virginia Association.

Instantly there arose a chorus of protests with the declaration that while not expressing censure in so many words, the resolution nevertheless had been offered in a spirit of criticism and conveyed no other meaning. Mr. Allen did not deny the inference, but on the contrary, in giving emphasis to his belief that the convention had been badly treated by the Democratic officials at Washington, exclaimed during a hubbub of voices, "if this be treason, make the most of it."

Put to a vote by Major W. W. Rollins, postmaster at Asheville, N. C., head of the Tarheel postmasters, who was presiding, the resolution was rejected by a tremendous majority.

TRUE BILLS AGAINST SCHMIDT.

Murderer and Accomplice Indicted for Counterfeiting by Government.

New York, Sept. 26.—The Federal grand jury today returned an indictment against the confessed slayer of Anna Aumuller, Hans Schmidt, and his associate, Ernest Muret, charging both with conspiracy to counterfeit. The indictment was voted Wednesday.

The two men will not be arraigned in Federal Court until next week.

Three alienists examined Schmidt for an hour and a half today. Schmidt will be examined further next week when a report is expected on the slayer's mental condition.

..Theatrical..

The Academy of Music will have open house today, presenting at matinee and night performances the famed New York drama, "The Deep Purple," with a splendid scenic production and a strong cast. Seats for both performances can now be purchased at J. Hicks Bunting's drug store.

"The Deep Purple" is a great play and this week it has received the flattering endorsement of the press of the State. In addition to the laudations already cited, the Durham Sun chimed in with high praise Thursday afternoon and from yesterday's Raleigh News and Observer comes the following:

"'The Deep Purple' pleased a good audience that likes the wholesome effect of a lesson that comes slowly but finally gets there.

"The fact that it is a New York police story and is built up on the great underworld of the great city of sin, tends to give play to the author and actors rather than restrict them. The play isn't the 'Great Divide' plot, but reminds one somewhat of it and the wait for the action isn't long.

"If applause be the touchstone, Hamilton Grace as William Lake, deserves mention high in the company. But Gordon Laylock, playing the ever unpleasing villain, performed with artistic effect the unlikable role. With his revolver, which was a trifle heavy under Queensberry rules, he did some good work and he may be congratulated upon his aim. The plot whereby a marriage leads an innocent girl into the hands of thieves, furnishes all sorts of possibilities and excitement.

"Miss Isabelle Ahearn, as Kate Fallon, was the unquestioned feminine favorite and does not rest the favor in which she is received upon mere looks. She has voice, fine appearance and an expensive role in which to work.

"All in all, 'The Deep Purple' goes well and was worth both the while and the money."

"Leopard Spots" Coming.

"The Leopard's Spots," Thomas Dixon's latest play which is founded on his book of that name, his first literary success, is to be seen here on Thursday, October 16th, matinee and night, at the Academy.

The play is written in the author's forceful and fearless style and is replete with thrills. A sensation is promised for each act. This is especially so of the prologue which is intensely dramatic, with a startling climax, and of the second act wherein a realistic fire scene is presented when a house is burned to the ground in full view of the audience. The book of "The Leopard's Spots" created a furore, and the play is likely to be the talk of the country. It is expected to surpass the success achieved by "The Clansman."

"The Clansman" presented the effort of the negro and his allies in Reconstruction times to force racial equality through political power. "The Leopard's Spots," after a prologue of brief but terrible intensity, treats of the efforts of the modern negro and his allies to force racial equality through wealth and education. The new play is rich in irresistible comedy.

The Grand's Week-end.

A two-reel special release at the Grand today. Of course, there are other good things, many of them, but that is the chief joy-giver, the main star of today's Saturday's show at this cozy, handsome theatre, which will, no doubt, do its usual enormous week-end business, which means "standing room only" audiences both afternoon and night. The two-reel release is Selig's "The Flight of the Crow." It tells of how the dissipated son of a millionaire becomes a tramp and soon is king of the hoboes, being known as "The Crow." His father dies and provides in his will that the money shall go to his son if found within a certain period. The quest for the son, with a lawyer trying to block the search, in order to get the money himself, is not only intensely interesting, but is at all times thrilling. It is one of the most novel of all film stories and a fine cast appears in the vivid portrayal. There is a star Vitagraph on today also in "A Maid of Mandalay." It is a dramatic of much force and beauty and should certainly be seen, as the famous Maurice Costello is the star. There will be plenty of new music at the Grand today, thus adding to the joy of all.

Five at the Bijou.

Five big films at the popular Bijou today. It's a quintette of latest and most select, so as to afford Bijou devotees, numbered by the hundred, the biggest week-end they have ever had. But this is not all, as the films will present some of the most popular of artists, including Maurice Costello and C. M. Anderson. Mr. Costello will appear in one of the top-liners, "The Joys of a Jealous Wife," which is a rattling good comedy. This favorite actor portrays the role of "Mr. Markman," who has an awfully jealous wife. He is inclined to flirt and what she does to him make-up howls for the the onlookers. Mr. G. M. Anderson will appear in the stellar role of "Broncho Billy's Mistake," the best of all the series. It's a thriller. There's another fun picture today that will prove a winner. It's "Bingles' Nightmare," in which poor Bingles falls asleep in a restaurant and dreams of a most delightful condition of affairs, where waiters won't receive tips and women get up in street cars and give him a seat. There is yet another smile picture in "Zeb's Musical Career." Zeb is the village trombone player and he joins an "Uncle Tom's Cabin" show, and what happens is furious for laughs. A great travel film is also a feature today in "Quaint Spots in Cairo, Egypt."

WILL GATHER IN RALEIGH.

Advocates of Stock Law Will Go to Capital City Tuesday—The Bill.

Mr. B. F. Keith, who is probably the most deeply interested person in the State in the proposed State-wide stock law, last night received a telegram from Raleigh from State Senator Geo. L. Peterson, of Sampson county, stating that the bill providing for State-wide stock law would be introduced in the Legislature on Monday. It is expected that the measure will be before the proper committee of the General Assembly on Tuesday and the advocates of the bill from all parts of the State have been urged to meet in the Capital City on that day so as to appear before the committee and state the reasons for desiring the enactment of the proposed law. Mr. Keith states that there will be a large delegation from this entire section of the State and Wilmington will have several representatives in attendance.

Senator Peterson has already introduced in the Senate a bill providing for stock law for Sampson county.

JURY RETURNS VERDICT.

Unable to Determine Who Killed Alonzo Green, Colored.

The jury impanelled Monday to inquire into the death of Alonzo Green, colored, who was found dead Monday morning near Hilton in the northern part of the city, after holding sessions Monday and Tuesday, met again yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the office of Coroner John J. Fowler. A verdict was returned to Coroner Fowler to the effect that Alonzo Green, colored, came to his death as the result of a wound made by a bullet from a pistol in the hands of a person unknown to the jury.

It had been expected to examine several witnesses yesterday afternoon but the officers stated that they had been unable to find any of the persons for whom subpoenas had been issued. As there had been no new developments in the case since Tuesday there was nothing for the jury to do except return a verdict as above stated.

Gregory Institute Opens Monday.

COTTON ACTIVE AND EXCITED

Prices Make New High Records on Crop Accounts and Foreign and Domestic Demands—The Fourteen Cent Level.

New York, Sept. 26.—The cotton market was active and excited during today's trading with prices making new high records on further bad crop accounts from the Western belt, and reports that uneasiness over the situation in this respect was creating a more active demand from both foreign and domestic spinners.

September contracts sold above the predicted 14 cent level while October nearly reached that figure and December contracts touched 13.81, or practically $15 per bale above the low records of last month. Heavy realizing was naturally encountered as the market went into new ground, and caused moderate reactions, but there was a big demand late in the day, and the close was strong at a net advance of 21 to 41 points.

Uneasiness over the Washington situation seemed to hold buying in check at the start, and after opening firm at an advance of 9 to 18 points on the very strong showing of the cables and the reports of further heavy rains with low temperatures in the Southwest, prices reacted several points under realizing. Some of the stronger recent buyers including prominent spot houses were credited with selling on the setback. A favorable review of the Georgia and Carolina crops by a prominent local paper may have inspired some scattered selling also, but offerings were readily absorbed by active covering and foreign buying and the market soon turned firmer. Later reports from Washington seemer reassuring as to legislative prospects, while every bullish advices were received from the Southwest, and active months sold 28 to 33 points net higher during the middle of the afternoon. Another spurt of realizing caused some liquidation later, but reactions were mostly recovered on reports of higher Southern spot markets, bullish weekend figures and rumors that the National Ginners' Association made the condition of the crop only 61.8 per cent.

Spot cotton, steady. Middling uplands, 14.10; do. gulf, 14.35; sales, 100 bales.

Futures closed steady.

SHORT CROP APPREHENDED

Cotton Shows Approximately $15 Per Bale From Low Level of Last Month—Some Influences on the Market.

New York, Sept. 26.—The cotton market has made new high records for the season during the past week on increasing apprehensions of a short crop and reports of a more active demand from spinners.

Speculative business has been restricted to some extent, no doubt, by the threat of adverse legislation, and nervousness over the situation in Washington has undoubtedly led to heavy realizing by old longs on advances, while it has also probably deprived the market of support that might have otherwise been inspired by the renewal of wet, cold weather in the Southwest, and other unfavorable new crop features. Offerings, however, have been readily absorbed on comparatively moderate setbacks, by the purchases of some of the stronger speculative or trade interests, and at the high prices reached today, there appeared to be a broadening general demand at an advance of approximately $15 per bale from the low level of last month. Eastern belt weather conditions have been considered more favorable since the recent rains and cold snap, and receipts have been increasing, but private wires have reported a good demand from both domestic and foreign spinners, which has apparently prevented any pressure of actual, although farmers have been reported willing sellers. Some authorities in the Southwest claim that the heavy rains and low temperatures of the past two or three days have caused more damage than the prolonged wet weather spell earlier in the month and about the only favorable crop reports now being received come from Georgia or portions of Alabama and the Carolinas.

The action of Liverpool which has led the advance of the week is supposed to have reflected a tendency among foreign spinners to reduce estimates of the crop, and nervousness over reports that Texas exporters were failing to fill their engagements, but Lancashire weavers are said to be sold ahead from 9 to 12 months, and small stocks of both raw and finished material are quite generally reported, while the domestic goods market has been firm and higher. The advance of the past week, however, has carried raw material up to practically the 14 cent level and local bears point out that level of prices is still to be tested by the effect of generally clearing weather on the movement, and Southern offerings.

BRADSTREET'S REVIEW.

Most Reports Indicate Trade is Better and Money Easier.

New York, Sept. 26.—Bradstreet's will say tomorrow:

"Distributive trade has had the center of the stage this week and in this line dry goods, clothing and wearing apparel generally have been active, both at wholesale and retail. Trade tendencies are onward, and business affairs show further improvement.

"This manifestation may very properly be correlated to the fact that stocks everywhere are light, that rains in the Southwest have superinduced a better feeling there, that colder weather over a wide area in the fore part of the week furnished a reminder that heavy goods were needed, besides affording a stimulus to the retail trade and that the crop movement has enlarged with farm produce prices especially remunerative.

"Most reports indicate that trade is better than it was at this time last year. Money appears to be a little easier.

"Business failures for the week were 287 compared with 259 last year.

"Wheat, including flour exports from the United States and Canada for the week aggregate 5,980,000 bushels against 5,850,902 last year."

Union, S. C., Sept. 26.—Harry Coleman today was found guilty of the murder of his father, Robert Coleman, who was found dead in his home here last January. Sentence of life imprisonment was pronounced by Judge Devore.

The verdict was returned shortly after midnight, after the jury had been in conference four hours. Mercy was recommended. It was Coleman's third trial. Two previous juries were unable to agree.

STOCKS STILL UNSETTLED

Some Improvement Yesterday But Movement Inconclusive—the Unsteady Fluctuations Due to Professional Trading.

New York, Sept. 26.—Although there was some improvement in the stock market today as compared to the sessions impending, the movement still was inconclusive.

The market was as far as ever from being shaped to a definite course, and unsteady fluctuations apparently reflected nothing more than the maneuvers of professional traders.

Early transactions showed a confused mixture of small gains and losses. The only conspicuous movement was in Union Pacific which rose steadily to the highest figure of the week. Gradually, a firm tone developed, with a showing of strength in Erie, Reading and gains in general were insignificant and the strong features were leveled down by a selling movement in the last hour.

Forecasts of tomorrow's bank statement indicated a gain in cash holdings of about $8,000,000. Cash has been flowing in steadily through the week. The movement is influenced by the deposits in the South and West of government funds, part of which is finding its way to New York. According to one estimate $10,000,000 of the crop money deposited by the Treasury Department has been forwarded to New York. Canada's need for gold at this season of the year was reflected in the withdrawal today of $1,000,000 for shipment to the dominion, in addition to the engagement of $500,000 yesterday.

Bonds developed a good tone with pronounced strength in the Rock Island issues. Total sales par value $1,790,000. United States bonds unchanged on call. Total sales were 276,000 including American Tobacco, 800; C. & O., 200; L. & N., 100; N. & W., 100; Reading, 48,100; S. A. "Fearing the robbers would attack the Pullman car next and perhaps harm Isabella, I picked up the baby and hurried to the door," said Mrs. Starrett. "I had secured my short barreled automatic pistol from my traveling bag before I started. I found that the doors were locked and I could not get out that way. I went back to my berth, a lower, opened the window and crawled out. Once outside I fled with my baby to the bushes."

ALBANIAN SITUATION.

Interest for Moment Only Secondary to Turkey and Greece.

London, Sept. 26.—The Albanian infantry said to be under command of Essad Pasha, continues in victorious march. The Servians are making desperate efforts to reinforce Monastir, which is threatened. The Greek authorities are expediting the movement of Serbs over Greek railways and anticipate a request for the passage of an entire Servian division through Saloniki.

Severe fighting near Ochrida in Albania, 100 miles north of Janina, is said to have resulted in the complete success of the Albanians who captured several guns. It is reported that both Russia and Austria have warned Servia to confine her operations within her own borders as defined by the ambassadorial conference.

Interest in the Albanian situation for the moment has become secondary to that of friction between Turkey and Greece.

The futility of the treaty of London to make Adrianople Bulgaria has not imbued the ambitious military party of young Turks with any great amount of respect for the decision of the European concert. Turkey, it was said, now is in the hands of the all-powerful military party which is apt to take any action that will strengthen it with the people.

DR. CARTER AT NEWBERN.

United States Health Official Working in Craven and Other Counties.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Newbern, N, C., Sept. 26.—Several weeks ago Dr. Henry R. Carter, a government expert on the malarial mosquito, spent several days in eastern North Carolina making an inspection of the malarial condition of the various towns and pointing out to the health authorities the places where this variety of mosquito breed and explaining to them how they could be exterminated.

During his itinerary he visited Newbern and after looking over the city gave a lecture which proved very beneficial to the citizens of the town. Realizing that much good was being done by Dr. Carter, Hon. Jno. M. Faison, Congressman from this district, has made arrangements for him to again visit this section and he will arrive some time during the approaching week. His itinerary includes Wilmington, Kinston, Morehead City, Jacksonville and several other points. At each place he will make a careful inspection and endeavor to find the breeding places of the malarial mosquito and point out to the health authorities how they may be exterminated.

CHARLOTTE OFFICER HELD.

Detective With Two Prisoners Arrested on Charge of Kidnapping.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 26.—J. D. Johnson, a detective from Charlotte, N. C., en route from Birmingham, Ala., to the North Carolina city, with two prisoners, late today was arrested here on a charge of kidnapping.

Circumstances surrounding the case are unusual. Johnson went to Alabama armed with requisition papers for W. M. Cleveland and J. P. Smith, wanted at Charlotte on a charge of passing worthless checks. The requisitions, according to Johnson, were honored by the Governor of Alabama.

When the officer and his prisoners reached Atlanta, Johnson was arrested on a magistrate's warrant, charged with having taken the men into custody without due process of law. The holding magistrate put Johnson's prisoners under guardianship as material witnesses against Johnson, and they are held at the county jail. Johnson later was released on his own recognizance. The hearing was set for noon tomorrow.

HOKE SMITH'S BROTHER.

Indicted for Assault and Battery—Made Good Use of One Arm.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 26.—Burton Smith, brother of United States Senator Hoke Smith, and Reuben R. Arnold were indicted by a grand jury for assault and battery. Both are prominent lawyers of Atlanta. The indictments were returned upon complaint of W. H. Byrd and C. W. Wharton, who testified that they were beaten by Smith and Arnold in a fight in the court house corridor last May. J. C. Cox, accused with Smith and Arnold, was not indicted.

Wharton alleged that Smith, who has only one arm, knocked him down for remonstrating with him for language used to a woman witness. In the fight which followed Smith is said to have floored several men. The complainants charge that Arnold and Cox interfered in Smith's behalf. Both Smith and Arnold gave bond at $200.

GEORGIA RAILROAD CHANGES.

Augusta, Ga., Sept. 26.—It was announced officially here today that Thomas K. Scott, general manager of the Georgia Railroad, has resigned on account of ill health. His resignation will take effect October 1st. C. A. Wickersham, of Atlanta, president of the Atlanta & West Point Railroad, will succeed Mr. Scott. Mr. Scott came here as general manager of the Georgia Railroad 20 years ago. The announcement today was in the form of a circular signed by Milton H. Smith, president of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, and H. Walters, chairman of the board of directors of the Atlantic Coast Line.

New York, Sept. 26.—Edward Scully, superintendent in the New York street cleaning department, sacrificed his life today to save a crowd of school children from a unaway horse. The horse hitched to a truck was headed toward a corner in Brooklyn occupied by two public schools. On the sidewalk were some 300 children. Scully dashed out of his office, seized the animal's bridle and turned it into the curb. Although he checked the runaway, he was carried under the horse's hoofs and killed.

Washington, Sept. 26.—Secretary McAdoo has deposited in National banks $24,159,000 of the government's $50,000,000 crop moving funds. The South has received nearly all of its quota. Deposits so far in Southern States are: Alabama $1,170,000; Florida $495,000; Georgia $1,622,000; Louisiana $3,075,000; Mississippi $150,000; North Carolina $1,250,000; South Carolina $1,400,000; Tennessee $2,045,000; Texas $600,000; Virginia $850,000.

NEW SOUTHPORT INDUSTRY.

Cape Fear Laundry and Manufacturing Co. Getting Ready for Business.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Southport, N. C., Sept. 26.—A most important local industry, now in course of construction, is the Cape Fear Laundry ahd Manufacturing Co. This company has purchased a very desirable piece of land on the W., B. & So. railroad, within the city limits, and has already bought boiler and engine, both of these being on the property, and with the lumber, a portion already here, these will soon be under roof in a spbstantial building. At a meeting of the directors this week, a wood-working outfit was decided upon, and this will soon be bought and installed. This latter will make door and window casing also manufacture other wood-work for houses.

In the laundry part of this company it is expected that as soon as the building can be erected, to order the latest designed laundry working outfit, and this will be in charge of skilled management, as will all departments. The company's charter is a liberal one, and under it there will be operated a wood and coal yard, and possibly other things, as local trade conditions may warrant. The stock is mostly taken here and in the county, there being some twenty-five stockholders at present, with a number of others who have signified that they would subscribe.

In the matter mentionedin this correspondence previously, it can be further stated that the government is now making a survey of the approaches to the Cape Fear Bar, this in connection with the proposed deepening of the bar to 35 to 40 feet.

The Carolina Coast Products Company, whose plant is about ten miles above here on the Cape Fear river, is ready for the season's business. Its fishing steamer is expected to arrive this week.

Tht U. S. steamer Fish Hawk, of the bureau of fisheries, was in the harbor on Thursday. The Fish Hawk is now engaged in locating fishing "banks" along this coast, and in the section between Beaufort Inlet and the Frying Pan Shoals, the work has been largely in locating Black Fish "banks," and the result has been very successful, a number of these being found and charted, this for the help and information of the fishermen, as they may desire to use the charted banks. The Fish Hawk came in to Southport seeking such information from the local fishermen, that might assist in the work of locating the "banks."

The manager of the U. S. fish hatchery at Beaufort, N. C., was on the Fish Hawk, and, speaking of the government's work in the fisheries, it is interest to note that it was through the hatchery at Beaufort that the exact month of the spawning of the flounder was discovered, the month being April. There is found to be a falling off in this fish, due, it is believed, to the absence of the male.

As with the shad, the government proposes to assist in the propagation of the flounder by seeing that the male is brought to the spawning grounds in the early Spring. With the shad, through the aid of the bureau of fisheries, the spawn increase has been from about 10 per cent to 80 per cent. in successful hatching, and it is thought that the same attention given to the flounder will prove equally beneficial in the increase of this very edible fish.

Parties from Virginia were here a few days ago, seeking information as to the possibilities of shipping lumber from this place, by vessel or steamer Thees people have under option some seven hundred million feet of stumpage, in the lower part of Brunswick county, and as they talked it seemed to be their plan to put up seven portable saw-mills, each with a daily cutting capacity of ten thousand feet. As yet no definite result, as to the success of getting the timber away, has been made known. If those interested have found the means. It would seem that a timber road to Southport would prove a way of reaching deep water and the best water transportation route to the outside market.

in turn, refused to accept the proposed Smith-Lever compromise. In the end it was determined to report a disagreement and let the Senate and House determine what shall be done toward regulating or taxing the trading in cotton for future delivery.

Final differences in the bill were adjusted as follows:

The House accepted the Senate rate of three-fourths cent a pound on lead ore.

The House receded from its provisions as to cotton threads, yarns and cloths, accepting Senate amendments, which revised the schedules on a new basis of thread count.

The final agreements were reached late in the afternoon, after a day in which President Wilson again had been consulted by leaders of both Houses, and an effort made by each side to obtain further concessions.

It is believed that objection will be made to the conference report when it reaches the House Monday, forcing it over to Tuesday's session. Advocates of the cotton futures compromise, know as the Smith-Lever plan, will endeavor to round up support in the House for a motion to send the bill back to conference again, with instructions to the conferees to adopt the compromise plan. A similar motion probably will be made in the Senate.

It is believed the bill cannot be completed by the two Houses and sent to the President before the latter part of next week.

Of this, the total of American cotton is 1,603,794, against 1,389,027 last week, and 1,913,205 last year and of all other kinds including Egypt, Brail, India, etc., 891,000, against 920,000 last week and 787,000 last year.

Of the world's visible supply of cotton there is now afloat and held in Great Britain and continental Europe 1,291,000, against 1,367,000 last year; in Egypt 96,000, against 62,000 last year; in India 445,000, against 465,000 last year, and in the United States 663,000, against 846,000 last year.

Columbia University was chartered as King's College in 1754. The name was changed to Columbia College in 1785 and to Columbia University in 1896.

German statistics show that 1912 was Germany's banner twelve-month ingrain production, the harvests of wheat and rye exceeding those of any previous year.

CURRENCY BILL HANGS FIRE

pective witnesses, Chairman Owen today said the hearings could be concluded by the middle of next week.

"Every one who has a right to be heard, can be heard by that time," said Senator Owen..

New England bankers today generally disagreed with the bill's provisions and suggested vital changes.

The delegation was headed by Chas. P. Blinn, vice president of the National Union Bank of Boston.

Mr. Blinn said that as president of the Massachusetts Bankers' Association, he was opposed to the bill. He added that bankers in New England showed a general opposition, and presented figures intended to show that regional reserve banks would cause a temporary contraction of credit.

F. A. Drury, of Worcester, Mass., who spoke for country bankers of New England, said country banks in Massachusetts would find it to their advantage to surrender National charters and stay out of the new system. Country bankers believed the system would take away the control of part of their capital and place it in the hands of "politically controlled boards," he said.
